STATES PEACE WOULD BRING JOBS FOR ALL

Federal Minister of Agriculture Says Canada Could Then Sell Wheat

CLAIMS UNEMPLOYED NOT MAJOR PROBLEM

MONTREAL, Jan. 9 (C.P.).—Unemployment is not the greatest problem in Canada, Hon. James G. Gardiner, Federal Minister of Agriculture, told the Montreal Ministerial Association tonight. "If the peace of the world could be insured for twelve months the unemployment problem of this country and of the world would sink into insignificance," he said.

Asked to explain how he meant that "fundamentally unemployment is not a problem at all," Mr. Gardiner said that with fear and mistrust ruling the world, every country was trying to make itself self-sufficient, and that some countries were living on war rations to insure self-sufficiency.

BRITISH FINANCES

"If peace were assured in the world, we could sell our wheat, bring money into the country to produce jobs throughout Canada," he said. "If peace were assured, Britain would be using some of her great financial resources to develop Canada's great natural resources.

"In Western Canada there is a great potential for industrial growth. Half the mineral wealth, half the coal of the country are enclosed in an area close to the Rocky

DUTY DODGERS FOUND GUILTY

First of Several Cases of Smuggling Disposed of By Authorities

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP).—Albert N. Chaperau, suave diplomatic poseur, was convicted of smuggling late today, while Comedian Jack Benny flew here to follow other theatrical personages before a Federal grand jury looking into customs violations.

Two other cases are impending against Chaperau, who excused his importations on the claim of diplomatic immunity, which was disallowed.

The precise background of Benny's trip from Hollywood was not disclosed by the Government, nor would the United States Attorney's office confirm published reports that it concerned the purchase of $1,200 worth of jewelry for the comedian's wife, Mary Livingston. Benny himself said merely: "I'm going back to find out what it is all about."

WOMAN ADMITS GUILT

Mrs. Edgar J. Lauer, accused co-defendant in this case, has pleaded guilty. Specifically, Chaperau was accused of smuggling French finery into this country in behalf of Mrs. Lauer.

His sentence was deferred pending disposition of other indictments against him. In one case his co-defendant is George Burns, of the comedy team of Burns and (Gracie) Allen, and in another he is charged along with Paula Gheyskens, now in Paris. Burns has pleaded guilty. In that case the articles the Government claims were smuggled consisted of jewelry.

Chaperau's claim of immunity was combatted by the Government through information from the State Department that it never had received notification of his appointment to any consular position.

Rossland Almost Free From Crime

ROSSLAND, B.C., Jan. 9 (CP).—Rossland should put in a bid for the title of British Columbia's most crimeless city. In the month of December there were only three cases before the court, two traffic violations and one of vagrancy. Fines and costs during the month totaled $35.

Strike in Boston Endangering Vast Store of Foodstuff

BOSTON, Jan. 9 (AP).—Market men demanded tonight that Governor Saltonstall obtain means for moving approximately $3,000,000 worth of foodstuffs tied up by a strike of 5,000 truck drivers, and slowly deteriorating at Boston terminals. There were 1,000 freight cars laden with perishable fruits, eggs, butter and meats in the north and south terminal freight yards.

MAY REVISE TRADE PACT

Canadian Government Reported Likely to Alter West Indies Treaty

OTTAWA, Jan. 9 (CP).—Plans for revision of Canada's trading agreements with the British West Indies are under the Government's consideration and may be mentioned in the Speech from the Throne to be read at the opening of Parliament next Thursday.

A review of the Government's trade expansion programme of the past year, including the new Canada-United States agreement, will be a feature of the speech, and it is expected to indicate a new arrangement with the British possessions in the West Indies will be the next major effort.

Canada's existing trade agreement with the British West Indies was proclaimed April 30, 1927, for a twelve-year period. Barring any notice being given by either of the parties, the agreement remains in effect, and it is understood no such notice has been given.

AGREE ON REVISION

But there has been a strong desire on the part of all concerned to revise this arrangement.

The existing West Indies agreement covers Trinidad and Tobago, Barbadoes, Jamaica, Bahamas, Windward Islands, Leeward Island, Bermuda, British Guiana and Honduras. These countries give Canada a preference ranging from 33 1-3 per cent to 50 per cent on a wide range of goods, and other specific concessions.

Canada gave the West Indies similar preferences, and undertook, with the aid of subsidies from the colonies to operate a line of steamships between Canadian ports and the islands to insure effectiveness of the new agreement. Subsidies amount to about $200,000 a year.

For the last fiscal year before the agreements came into operation, the year ended March 31, 1927, imports to Canada from West Indies countries party to it were valued at $18,000,000, and exports from Canada to those countries, $17,000,000.

Three Perish In Storm in New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., Jan. 9 (AP).—New Mexico counted three dead tonight in the wake of a paralyzing snowstorm which halted automobile traffic over a wide area in the North-Central section of the state and left dozens of motorists stranded in their cars on Sunday night.

Fears that some travelers might still be marooned were dissipated when state police and highway crews broke through all blocked highways and reported everyone safe. State police said some of the rescued motorists were suffering from frozen hands and feet, but none was in a serious condition.

CATALONIAN TOWNS BOMBED

BARCELONA, Jan. 9 (AP).—Insurgent bombers attacked four cities and towns in Catalonia today, killing seven persons and wounding sixteen. Barcelona, Reus, Tarragona and Borjas del Campo were the points bombed.

When Germans Did Not Attend Dinner

This picture was taken at the Foreign Press Association dinner in London which upset the German representatives to such an extent that they were conspicuous by their absence. Premier Chamberlain is seen above making some of the comments to which the Germans took exception. Today he leaves for Rome for appeasement conversations with Mussolini.

Mayor Advocates Goldstream Unit Be Used by City

Andrew McGavin, in Inaugural Address, Points Out That Power Plant Could Be Acquired By Loan Under Municipal Improvements Assistance Act—Would Save Finances

DEVELOPMENT of the Goldstream electrical plant as a municipal undertaking through a loan from the Federal Government, the possibility of a reduction in light and power rates, improvement of the pavement alongside street car tracks, the importance of the forthcoming visit of the King and Queen, an aggressive policy for the sale of reverted property, and the need for further stringent economy were touched on by Mayor Andrew McGavin in his annual address at the postponed inaugural meeting of the 1939 City Council last night.

At the outset, Mayor McGavin expressed regret at the absence of ex-Aldermen James Adam and Alex Peden, welcomed Aldermen T. W. Hawkins and Duncan D. McTavish, and congratulated Aldermen Archie Wills, W. Lloyd Morgan and John A. Worthington on being re-elected.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR

His Worship pointed out the past year was successful in so far as civic affairs were concerned. The council had been able to reduce taxes and end 1938 with a cash surplus. He hoped the policy of repairs to streets, sidewalks and other public services would be continued.

Mayor McGavin stated in part:

"It will again be necessary to conserve our finances in every possible way, in view of our increasing obligations for debt retirement in 1940, and also keeping in mind the fact that the small property owner is still carrying a very heavy tax burden. As long as I am Mayor, my chief aim will be to protect the workingman taxpayer.

"I would again impress on the lands committee the importance of

ILL-FATED SHIP NEARING HOME

Schooner With Party Bound For Galapagos Returning To San Pedro

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Jan. 9 (AP).—Plagued by storms, alleged mutiny and finally disabled, the three-masted schooner Metha Nelson, which left here last September 19 for the Galapagos Islands, with a fishing party, was nearing home tonight, under tow.

Marion Bello, stepfather of the late Jean Harlow, film actress, Countess Dorothy Di Frasso and others made up the party which sailed on the 190-foot craft.

Federal agents will meet the Metha Nelson tomorrow to question the crew about the alleged mutiny of two former crew members, Charles Segal and Abraham Kapellner, who had been put ashore at Acapulco, Mex., and returned here aboard the Cellina, Italian motorship.

On her way here the Cellina found the Metha Nelson, her masts swept away, and towed her back to Acapulco. After temporary repairs, the schooner started home under auxiliary power, but threw her crankshaft today thirty-four miles south of here. The tug Plover left to tow her in.

Segal and Kapellner deny they mutinied, but claim Capt. Robert Hoffman resented their intercession for a Jewish boy aboard.

MADE FREEMAN OF VANCOUVER

Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett Honored by Citizens of Mainland City

VANCOUVER, Jan. 9 (CP).—Freedom of the City of Vancouver was conferred tonight on Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, as 1,000 persons gathered in Hotel Vancouver's Crystal Ballroom to bid farewell to the former Dominion Prime Minister and National Conservative leader.

Mr. Bennett was introduced by Mayor J. Lyle Telford, long prominent in Co-operative Commonwealth Federation activities in British Columbia, as "a man of outstanding character and integrity—one of Canada's truly outstanding citizens."

PRESENTED WITH KEY

He was presented with a silver-and-gold key, symbolic of the city's freedom, and an illuminated copy of the City Council's resolution granting it to him.

"Not all of us have agreed always with the political policies Mr. Bennett represents," Mayor Telford said, "but be that as it may, I am sure each one here feels just as I do. Mr. Bennett seems to radiate confidence and inspiration."

As Mayor Telford passed to Mr. Bennett the key and address, the huge audience, which filled the big room to overflowing, rose to sing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and cheer the statesman on his last visit to the city before his departure for England at the end of this month.

GUNMEN KILL TORONTO MAN

Bookmaker and Dance-Hall Owner Slain by Four Masked Men

OTTAWA, Jan. 9 (CP). — Police tonight combed underworld hangouts in quest of clues that would lead them to the four-man execution squad that murdered James Windsor, bookmaker and dance-hall proprietor, Saturday night. They believed Windsor had refused to be "shaken down" by racketeers.

Meanwhile, three women who witnessed the shooting in Windsor's North Toronto home were taken in a police car to an unannounced destination, presumably because they feared the gunmen might return.

The three, Mrs. Evelyn McDermott and Mrs. Edith Warner, sisters, of Windsor, and eighteen-year-old Lorraine Bronnell, told police they were confident they could identify the four men, whose faces were partially covered by handkerchiefs when they entered the Windsor home.

JEWELRY TAKEN

Windsor, former beer-runner and described by police as a bookmaker with agents operating for him in downtown Toronto, was robbed of jewelry estimated to value more than $3,000 after he was shot and then kicked in the face as he lay on his kitchen floor.

Police said they learned racket-

Drew to Seek Election in Simcoe East

MIDLAND, Ont., Jan. 9 (CP).—Lieut.-Colonel George A. Drew, new leader of the Ontario Conservative Party, announced today he would seek election to the legislation in a by-election in Simcoe East. William Finlayson, sitting member and a former provincial minister of lands and forests, will resign to facilitate Colonel Drew's entry to the House.

Premier Hepburn has announced the Liberal Party will have no candidate in the field in any by-election in which Colonel Drew runs.

CAUCUS CHAIRMAN TO BE SELECTED

Conservative Leader Announces Plan for Party Members' Meeting At Ottawa Tomorrow

OTTAWA, Jan. 9 (CP).—Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, Conservative leader, announced tonight a chairman would be named by the caucus of Conservative Members of Parliament when they meet Wednesday for the first time under his leadership.

"The caucus chairman selected then will in all probability act throughout the whole session of Parliament," Dr. Manion said.

"The selection of a chairman is the business of the caucus. I am not going to suggest anyone."

The practice in recent years in Conservative caucuses has been for the leader of the House of Commons to preside himself at party caucuses, while the Liberal caucus has chosen one member other than the Liberal leader to preside at its meetings. It has been suggested the Conservatives might follow the Liberal system and John R. MacNicol, M.P. for Toronto-Davenport, has been mentioned as possible choice.

Long-Range Policies With National Unity Needed for Dominion

Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Former National Conservative Leader, Delivers Farewell Address in Vancouver—Canada Must Stay With Empire

VANCOUVER, Jan. 9.—Canada must develop a strong national unity and establish "long-range" Government policies to replace short-range policies of the past before she can attain the full benefits of Confederation, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett said in a farewell address here today.

"We cannot become a Dominion unless we remember that we must function as an organized unit," the former Prime Minister and retired national Conservative leader said. "Unless local jealousies are removed, the nation never can achieve such unity."

It was Mr. Bennett's last Vancouver speech before leaving Canada at the end of this month to take up permanent residence in England. Twelve hundred businessmen—members for the most part of the Vancouver Board of Trade and Canadian Club—clapped and cheered as he rose to address the largest

CHAMBERLAIN-MUSSOLINI TALKS TO EMBRACE ALL INTERNATIONAL QUESTIONS ENDANGERING PEACE

Italy's Aspirations Expected to Be Discussed, Despite Desire of Britain and France to Avoid Mention of Rome's Clamors for Concessions in French Colonial Empire

LONDON, Jan. 9 (CP).—Prime Minister Chamberlain, who kept the world out of war in 1938, will start 1939 by talking peace with Premier Mussolini in Rome. Accompanied by Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax, the British Prime Minister will leave for Rome tomorrow morning to further his policy of appeasement.

They will break their journey in Paris to emphasize Anglo-French solidarity, and to consult Premier Daladier on impressions gained in his trip to Corsica and France's North African colonies, from which Daladier returned to Paris on Sunday.

PURPOSE OF VISIT

The general purpose of Mr. Chamberlain's trip is to have a man-to-man talk with Il Duce because the Prime Minister believes personal contacts are indispensable in present-day diplomacy. He also believes "you cannot have peace by sitting and waiting for it."

There will be no agenda for the conversations, but France has made it plain Mr. Chamberlain is not wanted as a mediator into unofficial Italian demands on Corsica, Tunisia and other territories.

There is every reason to believe, however, these demands will be discussed together with Italian aspirations for representation on the board of the Suez Canal Company.

FOUR MAIN QUESTIONS

The conversations generally will embrace all international questions which cause friction and endanger peace.

These questions include:

1. The Italo-French dispute raised by Fascist clamor for concessions in France's colonial empire.
2. The Spanish Civil War.
3. Removal of Jews from Germany.

Five Firemen Are Injured When Roof Of Warehouse Falls

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP).—Five firemen were injured slightly early today in the collapse of the roof of a fire-damaged three-story warehouse in Brooklyn. Two others escaped unhurt when the roof gave way while they were "washing down" the ruins. A fire broke out in the warehouse at 8:30 last night, and after two alarms were sounded, the blaze was reported extinguished at 9:30. The roof collapsed about three hours later.

Russia to Sell Rights To Fishery

TOKIO, Jan. 9 (AP).—Soviet Russia has informed Japan she intends to auction during February fishery lots in the Sea of Okhotsk, hitherto operated by the Japanese, though negotiations still are in progress for a new Soviet-Japanese fisheries agreement.

The Japanese Ambassador in Moscow, Shigernori Togo, has informed Soviet Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff such a step would aggravate Russian-Japanese relations.

Officials indicated today the Japanese intended to continue fishing in Soviet waters whether or not a new treaty were concluded.

SOLDIERS BUSY ALONG BORDER

Hungarian Troops String Barbed Wire at Carpatho-Ukranian Boundary

BUDAPEST, Jan. 9 (AP).—Soldiers strung barbed wire across snow-covered fields along the Hungarian side of the Carpatho-Ukrainian border today and brisk military movements were reported on both sides of the troubled boundary.

No shooting was reported in the Munkaes and Ungvar districts but Hungarians reported a large Carpatho-Ukrainian force had moved up to the demarcation line at Derczen.

The Hungarians said that a concentration of Hungarian troops near Derczen forestalled another incident such as that of last Friday when Munkaes was shelled by Czecho-Slovakian artillery and bombardment yesterday of a village near Ungvar.

PRINCIPAL CITIES

(Both Munkaes and Ungvar were principal icties of Carpatho-Ukraine [Ruthenia] before the post-Munich settlement of November 2 at Vienna, in which 4,875 square miles of Czecho-Slovakia, including a chunk from the eastern or Carpatho-Ukrainian end, were awarded to Hungary.)

Hungary delayed returning its minister to Prague, strongly hinting the clashes had endangered relations between the Czecho-Slovakian and Hungarian Governments.

Snow fell intermittently in the zone of friction. Visibility was poor but observers reported Czecho-Slovakian forces were bringing up materials for building pontoons near the village of Gat in a swampy borderland region.

DEFENDS AIR RAID POLICY

Sir John Anderson Answers Charges About Shelters To Protect Civilians

LONDON, Jan. 9 (CP).—Sir John Anderson returned tonight from a skating holiday in Switzerland and promptly issued a detailed answer to charges of muddle in the Air Raids Precautions service.

At the same time the Lord Privy Seal, who has charge of civilian defence measures for the Government, warned: "You cannot make war safe for civilians."

Sir John said he still is considering the question of deep bombproof shelters for the civilian population, but defended the policy, announced December 21, of planning splinter-proof shelters.

WAR RISK APPARENT

"It is essential we should provide maximum protection against splinters as speedily as possible," he said. "We are working on the assumption there is risk of war within a comparatively short time.

"But that does not mean we expect war. My opinion is you cannot make war safe for the civilian. There is only one way of making the civilian safe, and that is avoidance of war."

He reiterated his opinion that a compulsory register of available manpower would be "an absolutely useless instrument."

The September crisis, he said, necessitated telescoping orders and speeding up arrangements for fire brigade organization. The original plans envisaged a supply of apparatus for 21,000 fire-fighting units by 1941. Under the accelerated scheme, this equipment would be substantially available by the end of 1939.

Sir John admitted some trenches and shelters dug during September would not be satisfactory in all weather conditions, but claimed they would certainly be useful to provide a measure of protection for civilians against bombs.

He denied the evacuation scheme

In Charge of Decorations In Dominion

OTTAWA, Jan. 9 (CP).—Task of decorating Canada for the visit of the King and Queen next Spring will be entrusted to J. B. Hunter, deputy minister of public works, it was learned today.

Cities of the Royal route will break out in a profusion of flags and bunting in honor of the Royal visit. Mr. Hunter and Public Works Department architects across the Dominion will co-operate with civic and provincial Governments to give Canada a festive appearance.

Refutes Charge of Cruelty as Method To Halt Rebellion

British War Office Issues Statement Denying Military Atrocities in Palestine—Report Says Allegations "Lying, Exaggerated Propaganda"

LONDON, Jan. 9 (CP-Havas).—Without mentioning any country by name, the War Office issued a long statement tonight branding charges of British military "atrocities" in Palestine as "lying and exaggerated propaganda" broadcast by "persons and organizations unfriendly to this country."

(The accusations were leveled first by the Italian press. Recently German newspapers have taken up the campaign.

(The Associated Press said the War Office was stung into making a reply by acid comment in the German press and by oral stories of atrocities circulating through Arab countries.

(British newspapers frequently have reprinted German news stories of "terrorist tactics" in Palestine which Nazi editors elaborated on to counter London newspaper accounts of "Jewish atrocities" in Germany.)

Most of the statement was devoted to a thorough description of methods used to cope with the armed rebellion which the War Office said was in progress in Palestine, and to an explanation of the

FRENCH DEPUTIES BLAMING BONNET

Policy of Foreign Minister Said to Have Made Italy's Mediterranean Demands Possible

PARIS, Jan. 9 (AP).—French-Italian tension—marked today by Italy's protest against anti-Fascist demonstration in Tunis—provided new ammunition for an attack on the policy of Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet.

Government opponents charged this policy made possible Italian demands for a share in France's Mediterranean and African empire.

Some reports in political circles were that if the attacks on Bonnet should become too pressing in Parliament, opening tomorrow, Premier Daladier might sacrifice the Foreign Minister to preserve the Cabinet. Daladier himself undoubtedly is strong.

PREPARING FOR COUNTER-DRIVE

Spanish Government Making Ready for Big Battle on Catalonian Front

HENDAYE, France, Jan. 9 (AP).—Spanish Government forces tonight were reported massing for a large-scale counter-offensive against insurgents on the northernmost flank of the Catalonian front.

The report followed an announcement by the insurgents they had captured the road junction town of Mollerusa, bringing them to within seventy-five miles of Barcelona on a main highway from Lerida through the heart of Catalonia. Mollerusa is fifteen miles east of Lerida.

Border dispatches said an almost continuous train of Government troops, tanks and artillery was moving toward the Seo de Urgel sector, about twenty miles south of the French frontier. Seo de Urgel is about fifty miles northeast of Lerida along a main highway.

CONCENTRATING IN NORTH

The reports indicated that the Government considered its southern flank sufficiently entrenched in the Montsant Mountains, about twenty-five miles northwest of Tarragona, to permit a telling blow to be delivered in the North.

The expected attack in the Seo de Urgel sector is believed the result of a renewed confidence of the Government resulting from the continuing success of its drive through Estremadura in Southwest Spain. The insurgents bolstered their forces today with troops drawn hastily from La Linea, west of Gibraltar. The number of men moved was not disclosed.

Road to Port Renfrew Is Sought by Duncan, Chamber Is Advised

J. L. Mutter, of West Coast Town, Says Victoria Is Losing Valuable Source of Revenue by Not Having Road Completed to Logging Centre

POINTING out the fact that interests in Duncan are at present advocating a continuation of the road from Cowichan Lake through to Port Renfrew, which will ultimately result in a thirty or forty thousand-dollar West Coast payroll being lost monthly by Victoria to Vancouver, J. L. Mutter, postmaster, hotel and store owner, stressed the advantage of speeding work on the road from Victoria, at a luncheon of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, in Spencer's dining-room yesterday.

Mr. Mutter stated that the people of Port Renfrew have decided Victoria is not helping them and have consequently turned to Duncan. He declared the West Coast was going ahead by leaps and bounds and with the appearance of a third logging company there this Summer the monthly payroll would probably reach around $70,000.

BEING SPENT IN VANCOUVER

Practically all this money is being spent in the city of Vancouver, the speaker said.

Continuing on the benefits of the West Coast Road to Victoria, he stated that practically all the marketable timber left on the Island was on that Coast.

W. T. Straith, M.P.P., said the Chamber of Commerce committee, pressing for the completion of the road, had been assured by the minister that the project would be completed from Victoria before the Duncan highway was put through. He stated relief workers were already at the end of the present road, beyond Jordan River, but that they had a difficult job ahead for the next three or four miles. After this, he declared, the job could be pushed ahead rapidly.

SAYS ROAD GOING THROUGH

E. H. Harris interjected that during the course of a hiking trip in behind Shawnigan Lake, he came across relief workers engaged in building a road from Duncan to Port Renfrew. Mr. Straith promised he would look into the matter.

Treasurer's report for the year 1938, presented by George I. Warren, showed the chamber had a cash balance at December 31 of $414.50. Receipts for the year totaled $8,270.78 and disbursements $7,856.28.

It was decided to appoint a committee to look into a plan, forwarded by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, for holding all public holidays in Canada on Monday, with the exception of Christmas Day, New Year's Day and Remembrance Day. The viewpoint of the retail merchants' section will be sought and the general membership canvassed by means of a questionnaire.

According to the proposal, Victoria Day would be observed on the third Monday in May, the King's Birthday on the second Monday in June and Dominion Day on the first Monday in July.

MOTION PICTURE QUOTA

Mr. Straith said two possible courses were being investigated by the Provincial Government for reviving the city's motion picture industry, which was forced to cease operations when the British quota laws were changed a year ago. The first was to try and interest Hollywood producers to make pictures here, while the other suggested the imposition of a provincial quota, and then to try and reach a reciprocity agreement with Great Britain whereby British pictures could be shown here in return for concessions in Great Britain for Canadian films.

The directors decided to offer their co-operation to the Provincial Government and the city in plans for the visit of King George and Queen Elizabeth in May. A committee will be named to study the problem of accommodating the large number of United States visitors expected here at that time.

UNABLE TO ACCOMMODATE

It was suggested that the hotels would not be able to handle the influx and that a survey of possible accommodation in private homes should be made.

A resolution of condolence was ordered sent to the relatives of the late David Leeming, which also embodied a tribute to the ex-mayor's valuable services in Chamber of Commerce work.

Duncan MacBride, chairman, congratulated Capt. Norman Foster on the clever work of the Victoria Girls' Drill Team, of which the secretary of the junior section is instructor. A report on Junior Chamber Christmas activities was given by the president, Conway Parrott.

SUPPORT FERRY

Messages of support in the chamber's move for restoration of the Mill Bay ferry service were received from the boards of trade of the Malahat district, Saanich and Courtenay.

Another committee will be struck to consider the suggestions which members submitted in answer to questionnaires, out of which a works programme for the coming year will be drafted and presented to the directors.

The membership committee was appointed as follows: J. V. Johnson (chairman), G. Hamilton Harman, Harold Husband, Conway Parrott, Fred M. McGregor, W. J. Clark, Alex T. Stewart, J. A. Greenlee and Thomas Sturgess.

BAND RETURNS FROM JOURNEY

Scottish Pipers Represent City at Pasadena Tournament of Roses

Valuable publicity for Victoria resulted from the visit of the First Battalion Canadian Scottish Regiment Pipe Band to the fiftieth anniversary Tournament of Roses at Pasadena, according to a report filed by Aldermen W. H. Davies and W. Lloyd Morgan for the City Council. The two aldermen accompanied Major Robert Travis and Pipe Major Alexander Wallace, W.O., with Miss Mary Lou Morgan as mascot.

Leaving here on December 29, the band played in the Northern Pacific Railway depot at Seattle, after a welcome from the Seattle chief of police and Col. D. B. Martyn, D.S.O. At Glendale the band was met by Capt. Hampton, 63rd Regiment, Coast Artillery, Mrs. M. E. Morgan and Pasadena officials. From there the party drove to Pasadena.

VISIT HOLLYWOOD

Visits were made to American Legion headquarters, Pasadena; the home of Ray Morgan, Hollywood, and Victor McLaglen's Sport Centre. The band was welcomed at a banquet by Mr. McLaglen.

On January 2 the band led the first division of a six-mile parade in Pasadena's Tournament of Roses. Selections were played during the annual football game at the Rose Bowl. From there the party journeyed to Fort McArthur and San Francisco. A parade was held via Market and Geary Streets to the Stewart Hotel in the Bay City. The party gave several concerts, and paid a visit to the site of the San Francisco Exposition, and Mayor Angelo Rossi.

Both Alderman Davies and Morgan stated thousands of visitors from California, Oregon and Washington intended to be present here for the Royal visit in May. They urged the council to investigate the problem of accommodation.

KIWANIS HEADS ARE INSTALLED

Officers of Local Service Club Take Over New Duties at Function

Officers of the Victoria Kiwanis Club for the current year were installed at a dinner and dance held last evening in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel. Walter M. Walker, lieutenant-governor of the Pacific Northwest division of Kiwanis, was installing officer, the affair being attended by some 140 members, their wives and guests.

Due to illness, Austin I. Curtis, newly-elected president, was unable to be present; however, Mr. Walker had initiated him into his new duties at Mr. Curtis' home prior to the dinner.

CONVEYS REGRETS

The installing officer conveyed President Curtis' regrets at his absence. He then repeated the talk he had given the club's leader on the duties of a Kiwanis president. Mr. Walker installed Vice-President A. M. Kirk, and the other officers, Arthur Dowell, treasurer; Ralph D. Matthews, secretary; Harry E. Douglas, Dr. J. Ewart Gee, W. W. Macdonald, A. C. Stickley, Cleeve G. White and Richard Jenkin, directors. J. George Saul, the seventh director, was also unable to attend the ceremonies.

Harold M. Diggon, a past district governor, installed J. G. MacFarlane, retiring officer, as past president, paying tribute to his successful year of office. The membership, he said, showed a 50 to 55 per cent increase during 1938, which was the greatest increase for a twelve-month period in the club's history. Mr. MacFarlane also received his past-president's badge.

Mrs. MacFarlane was presented with a large basket of flowers by Kenneth Ferguson, another past district governor, as a token of esteem for her assistance to her husband during his term as president.

Mr. MacFarlane summarized the activities of the local club during 1938, and asked the support of all the members in making the 1939 convention of the Kiwanis district, which will be held in Victoria in September, a success. He also expressed his appreciation to the members for their support during the year.

Guests of honor were G. Hamilton Harman, president of the Rotary Club, and Mrs. Harman; R. L. Challoner, president of the Gyro Club, and Mrs. Challoner; and Ronald Whittington, president of the Kinsmen Club, and Mrs. Whittington.

H. J. S. Reynolds gave a humorous talk, and two solos were rendered by Dudley Wickett; accompanied by Miss Maquinna Daniels.

Dancing was enjoyed following the dinner and ceremonies.

Look Out for Serious STOMACH TROUBLE

Very serious stomach disorders often begin with just a little touch of indigestion. You feel pain after eating. Accumulated gas presses on nerve centres and causes heartburn, and burning acid causes other painful discomforts. At first it clears up by itself. But it grows more frequent. Better by far check this trouble now, with exactly the same four alkalies prescribed in hospital treatment by stomach specialists. You do this when you take Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. These four potent alkalies in Maclean Brand Stomach Powder usually give you instant relief from distress, even when stomach trouble has become severe or chronic. And that is only the start. PLANS OPENING HOTEL IN MAY

Canadian National Fixes Date for Operation of Vancouver Hostelry

VANCOUVER, Jan. 9 (CP).—J. Van Wyck, head of the Canadian National Railways hotel system, announced today the new $12,000,000 Vancouver hotel will be opened on May 25, four days before the arrival of the King and Queen.

The C.N.R. hotel system manager said Their Majesties would occupy the fifteen-room vice-regal suite on the fourteenth floor of the fifteen-story structure. The decorations and furniture would be specially arranged, Mr. Van Wyck said, and would remain permanently after the visit of the King and Queen.

NO OVERNIGHT STAY

(The scheduled itinerary for the visit of the King and Queen to Vancouver does not provide for an overnight stay here. They will probably be based at the vice-regal suite at the hotel during the seven hours of their visit.)

Mr. Van Wyck said the staff of the present Hotel Vancouver, employees of some Canadian National hotels and "as many Vancouver people as we can use," will make up the expected staff of 500 at the new hotel.

The hotel system manager will return April 1 to superintend final details.

"SINCEREST FLATTERY"

Three weeks after Jessie reached boarding school she began signing her letters "Jessica." Brother Tom didn't like it. He replied:

"Dear Jessica: Daddica and Momma have gone to visit Aunt Lizzica. Uncle Samica is buying a new machine, but doesn't know whether to get a Chevica or a Fordica. The cowica had a calfica and I was going to call it Nellica, but changed it to Jimmica because it was a bullica. Your loving brother, Tomica."

Automatic Vending Devices for Candy To Be Ousted Here

City Council Will Introduce Regulatory By-law Tomorrow Afternoon—Gum Also Affected—Elevator Operator Seeks New Machinery

A BY-LAW to prohibit the use of automatic candy or chewing gum vending machines will be introduced at a meeting of the City Council at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, it was decided at the inaugural session last night. A clause in the trades licence by-law setting a fee of $30 for every six months in connection with pin games will be struck out. Such machines recently were declared illegal and removed from the city last month.

Forrest L. Shaw, city solicitor, pointed out to the council that the vending machine by-law must be passed by January 15.

OGDEN POINT ELEVATOR

An application from the Gillespie Grain Company, Ltd., for the installation of two cleaning machines at the Ogden Point elevator was referred to the lands committee. The machines would cost a total of $7,000. The building inspector reported that the plant had been placed in working order for the grain company at a cost of $2,184.20.

The public works committee was asked to deal with a request from the Glenshiel Hotel for the renewal of a sign permit on Belleville Street.

Permission was granted the Board of Cemetery Trustees of Greater Victoria to forego the annual sinking fund payment of $1,615.20 in connection with Royal Oak Burial Park.

A request from the school board for a school warning sign at Pandora Avenue and Camosun Street was referred to the public works committee.

SILENT TRIBUTE

The council stood in silence for one minute in memory of Alexander G. McCandless, one time mayor and school trustee of the city, who passed away at Vancouver on January 5.

Alderman Duncan D. McTavish was appointed a council representative on the board of directors of St. Joseph's Hospital.

The city solicitor and city engineer were asked to investigate and report on the condition of the pavement between British Columbia Electric street car tracks. The franchise committee decided to discuss the possibility of taking over the Goldstream electric plant by means of a loan from the Federal Government.

W. Shorrock, watershed sanitary inspector, was placed on a part-time basis at a salary of $90 per month, as from February 1.

Alderman B. J. Gadsden was appointed a committee of one to investigate and report on a city manager form of municipal government.

The health and relief committees were asked to deal with a letter from the City of Edmonton, suggesting that the council endorse a move for a social security act in Canada.

GRANT OF $2,000

A grant of $2,000 was made to the Publicity Bureau on account of the annual provision of operating funds. A letter from the Chamber of Commerce stated that a committee had been appointed to co-operate with the council in regard to the Royal visit.

A letter from G. H. Gowan alleging irregularities in the taking of the petition in favor street car extension was received and filed. Alderman R. A. C. Dewar stated the British Columbia Electric paid no part of the expense of the petition.

It was decided to remove alternate trees on Pandora Avenue and Coventry Street, and a single tree at 50 Cook Street.

Fire wardens were asked to deal with a recommendation of the fire chief that an inspection officer be appointed, and that the roof of the fire hall be renewed.

APPOINTMENTS MADE

Cyril Jones was appointed acting water commissioner and city engineer for one year; Arthur V. Danby, acting assessor and collector; Jerry A. Harrison, acting comptroller and treasurer; Mrs. Florence E. Mutrie, acting relief officer, and W. Percy Wright, acting city clerk.

Motions of appreciation were passed to the Christmas Bureau and other charitable organizations, Boy Scouts' Association, Alderman W. H. Davies and J. C. North for the children's dinner, and to the Rotary Club for entertaining the Mayor and council on January 5.

The special wage committee was asked to deal with a recommendation of last year that a system of grades and salaries be introduced at the City Hall.

On recommendation of Major M. Kirkpatrick Crockett, city lands commissioner, the following lots were sold: One on Cormorant Street, $1,000; Kings Road, $250; Bay Street, $150; Herald Street, $2,500, and Douglas Street, $400. The commissioner was thanked by the Mayor for his activity in disposing of reverted property.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR RECEPTION

Junior Chamber of Commerce to Entertain National President

Plans for the reception and entertainment of J. A. Wishart, national president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada, who is to visit the city on Monday, January 30, were discussed at a general meeting of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce last night.

It was agreed that the next regular meeting of the chamber, which in the ordinary course would take place on January 23, should be held on the day of Mr. Wishart's visit, and that it should take the form of a dinner meeting, at which the directors of the senior chamber would be invited to be present. It was also decided that a committee of ladies should be asked to entertain Mrs. Wishart, who will accompany her husband, while the meeting is in progress.

At the suggestion of Thomas Sturgess, it was decided that the radio committee should consider arranging a tour of the CFCT broadcasting studio and the new transmitting station at Portage Inlet, and that a letter of congratulation should be forwarded to the management of CFCT for the opening of the station today.

C.B.C. STUDIO

Thomas E. Watkins revived the question of the establishment of a Canadian Broadcasting Corporation studio in Victoria, and it was agreed that the radio committee should consider the advisability of requesting the Dominion Government to provide such facilities for the broadcasting of programmes from Victoria, over the C.B.C. network.

Brief discussion took place on the question of a civic forum, and it was resolved that a committee should be struck to keep the chamber informed as to the progress of forum proposals.

A fact-finding committee also was appointed to make a study of the West Coast road to Port Renfrew question.

Various tentative proposals in connection with the forthcoming visit of the King and Queen were discussed, but no finality was reached.

INJURED BY CAPS

NEWTON, N.J., Jan. 9 (AP).—Jacob Faber, thirteen, his left leg amputated, and a playmate, Davie Creppts, eleven, were in hospital today because they attempted to cut copper wire from dynamite caps with a hatchet. The explosion tore away part of Faber's left leg. Creppts suffered minor injuries, and Jacob Young, ten, was cut about the face.

ALL THE TIME

"Do you know where Andrew MacTavish lives?" a visitor asked a Scot.

"Na, I havna heard tell o' him," the native replied, "but if yc ask at the village somebody'll tell ye."

One hour passed. Then the visitor met the native again.

"I can't find him," the visitor explained.

"M'm, that's queer," the Scotsman mused. "Hasna he a nickname o' any sort?"

"Well, I believe he's called Cocky Mac."

"Weel, why did ye no say so?" the Scotsman replied. "That's me."

DIZZY FINANCE

The fire policy on a woman's house was taken to her by the company's agent.

"There it is, madam," he said. "The premium is 10 pounds."

"How unfortunate," the woman said, "my bank balance is rather low just now. Tell the company to let it stand, and deduct it from what they will owe me when the house is burned down!"

HOW IT STARTED by Glenn Newton

"GREENHORN" — ORIGINALLY, IT WAS AN OX WITH GREEN HORNS!

In the year 1753, there appeared in "Scots Magazine," published in England, a brand new conception of the various rungs or gradations in our social scheme.

"The scale," according to the author, "consists of eight degrees; Greenhorn, Jemmy, Jassamy, Smart, Honest Fellow, Joyous Spirit, Buck and Blood."

Then as now, it will be noted, the greenhorn ranked low, lowest, in fact a rating to which, intrinsically, the designation is not at all entitled; for originally, it was simply an allusion to an ox with green or young horns, being so employed as early as 1460.

The first usage of "greenhorn" in its modern sense of novice was in connection with soldiers, especially recently enlisted and therefor raw recruits, who were called Green Hornes. This was in the Seventeenth Century.

Thence it was an easy step to the word's application to inexperienced persons, newcomers or foreigners who did not know the ropes, even to simpletons.

He—What Bills, Mom?
She—Bills for the Things I Bought Last Month, Jack!

It's easy to tell the type of woman who pays her bills when due. She's fair and square with everyone and has the respect of all. Bills to her are things to be paid—not delayed. After all—paying bills promptly is only a matter of thoughtfulness and fair play. You promise to pay within a certain time and it's up to you to keep your promise—or lose the privilege of credit.

You have greater peace when you form the habit of paying bills promptly. The household runs more smoothly and credit is yours to enjoy without anxiety.

DELAYED BY BAD STORMS

Empress of Russia Encountered Gale After Gale on Eastbound Trip

With a small list of travelers aboard, the Canadian Pacific liner Ss. Empress of Russia, Captain J. F. Patrick, R.N.R., commander, arrived alongside Rithet Piers at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, inbound from Manila via way ports in China and Japan. She was about eight hours behind schedule, being due here at 7 a.m. yesterday.

Unable to reach Vancouver in time to catch the evening eastbound train following the completion of her business here, C.P.R. officials had the afternoon boat for Vancouver tie up at No. 1 pier, while a number of passengers, due to sail from Atlantic ports at the end of the week, could be transferred.

Getting the Britain-bound passengers and their baggage aboard, the Ss. Princess Kathleen got away for Vancouver shortly before 4 o'clock, while the Russia continued to her destination at 5 p.m. after disembarking Victoria passengers, local and United States mails and general cargo.

Explaining the ship's late arrival, Captain Patrick stated for continuous stormy weather, the passage of the North Pacific completed yesterday was the worst in his memory. It was a succession of bitter gales, he said, from the time the ship cleared Yokohama breakwater until she was inside Cape Flattery.

Among the arrivals on the Russia were M. J. Cuffe, representative of a New York firm returning from a business visit to the Orient; Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Tracy and Miss H. J. Tracy, the former being assistant general manager of Standard Vacuum Oil Company, Hongkong; Mrs. B. V. Glover, Hongkong; Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Burke, connected with the Rockefeller Foundation; N. C. Halsey, of the Malayan Police, Perak; Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Starr, the former being president of American Asiatic Underwriters, Shanghai, and Colonel S. W. Miner, president of Dibrell Brothers, tobacconists, Shanghai.

Other travelers aboard the liner included Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Charles and daughter, of Asiatic Petroleum Company, Shanghai; Mr. and Mrs. C. T. McClennan, of the Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Shanghai; W. H. Lydall, of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, Shanghai; E. B. McGhee, secretary to the president of the American Asiatic Underwriters; R. B. Orr, of Carter, Macy & Company, Taihoku; J. W. Cameron, Asiatic Petroleum Company, Tientsin; K. Kirkwood, second secretary, Canadian Legation, Tokio; Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Pedersen and daughter, the former being connected with the Great Northern Telegraph Company, proceeding to Norway; A. Greenfield, Cleveland, and Mrs. L. H. Stevens and son, wife and son of Dr. Stevens, Presbyterian missionary, Manchukuo.

DUE ON THURSDAY

Making a smart passage from Honolulu, the Canadian-Australasian Ms. Aorangi, Captain T. V. Hill, commander, is due alongside Rithet Piers at 2 p.m., Thursday, according to advices received from the ship by James Macfarlane, general agent of Canadian Pacific Steamships here.

LANDED HERE

Arriving from the Orient on the Empress of Russia here yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. E. Carlson and daughter. Mr. Carlson is connected with the Asiatic Petroleum Company and is on his way to England, while Mrs. Carlson and Miss I. M. Carlson will visit here with Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Lancaster, South Turner Street.

LUMBER VESSELS

Loading lumber cargo for the United Kingdom, the British freighter Niceto de Larringa was alongside Ogden Point Piers yesterday. She had 425,000 feet to stow and was expected to get away overnight for Port Alberni.

Having completed deck repairs to the freighter Boulderpool yesterday morning, workmen of Yarrows, Limited, shifted their gear as longshoremen commenced to restow the forward deck load from scows alongside. The Boulderpool will probably be ready for sea some time today.

IN OVERNIGHT

Coming in from the United Kingdom by way of Panama, California and Washington ports, the Furness Line Ms. Pacific Pioneer was due to reach Rithet Piers between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning. Longshoremen will commence discharging local cargo from the combined freight and passenger ship at 8 o'clock. Completing here, the Pioneer will continue to Mainland ports.

RELINQUISHED HIS POSITION

Chairman of I.M.M. Company Retired From Post At End of Year

P. A. S. FRANKLIN

P. A. S. Franklin, identified with shipping affairs in the United States for over thirty years, during which his primary concern had been to further the growth of a national merchant marine, resigned the chairmanship of I.M.M. Company on December 31. In this cause, he had contributed more than any other man in the course of a distinguished career.

As president of the International Mercantile Marine Company, organized in 1903 for the purpose of building a great American shipping concern, he steered the company through the difficult war and post-war years with notable success.

Mr. Franklin was born in Maryland and received his early training in Baltimore, where he joined the staff of the Atlantic Transport Company as a boy. During the Great War he placed his wide knowledge of shipping at the disposal of the Government and as a "dollar-a-year" man rendered distinguished service to his country, first as a member of the shipping committee of the Council of National Defence and later as chairman of the Shipping Control Committee. For his services he received the Distinguished Service Medal; while the French Government made him a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor, and Belgium, a Knight Commander of the Order of Leopold.

He will continue as a member of the board of directors of the I.M.M. Company and the United States Lines Company.

WHITE CAT IS STILL ABOARD

Evagoras Experienced Bad Luck Before Pussy Was Adopted by Captain

NEW WESTMINSTER, Jan. 9 (CP).—Sailors on the British-Greek freighter Evagoras may be superstitious, but they refused to part with a white cat—believed by some to be a jinx—and the vessel sailed from here today with the animal aboard.

The cat was adopted by Captain J. McDonald when the vessel was loading at Port Alberni.

A short time later the ship broke her mooring lines during a heavy storm while berthed at Ogden Point Pier in Victoria and was damaged when dashed against the pier by the wind and waves.

After completing her cargo here early last week, the Evagoras developed a fourteen-degree list and part of her deckload of lumber was unloaded before a small leak in a ballast tank could be repaired.

Bad luck tagged the vessel for some time before adoption of the supposed "jinx" cat, however. Early last year she broke down off the west coast of Africa and was towed to a British port, and before that she developed engine trouble in the English Channel and was towed to Rotterdam for repairs.

MAY BECOME COMPETITORS

Possibility Oriental-Owned Boats May Enter Coast Towing Business

VANCOUVER, Jan. 9 (CP).—British Columbia tugboat interests are beginning to fear that Oriental boats will become competitors in towboat operation, The Vancouver Daily Province said today in a newspage story.

"Possibility of this fact comes through the fact that recent Government regulations permit fish packers to carry freight for the companies for whom they are working," the paper said.

"A fish packer can come in with a load of fish and tow a company scow back north," the story continued. "Canadian lines, operating coastwise, are reported as feeling this development.

"Japanese buyers of logs are now insisting that the logs they buy here must be purchased through a Japanese agent and that agent loads them out on Japanese ships.

"There is a possibility that Japanese buyers will insist that the logs from Japanese-owned timber limits of British Columbia be towed to the assembly point, where the deep-sea ships pick them up, by Japanese-Canadian tugboats," the paper concluded.

SILVERCREST HARD AGROUND

Eleven Passengers of Ship Stranded on Luzon Island Landed at Manila

MANILA, Jan. 9 (AP).—Unperturbed and apparently none the worse for their experiences, eleven passengers of the grounded freighter Hoegh Silvercrest arrived in Manila today aboard a sister ship, the Silveryew.

When the 3,360-ton ship smashed hard aground on the southwest tip of Luzon Island on Friday night, it felt like a slight earthquake, said Mr. and Mrs. E. M. O'Leary, Reno, Nev., and Miss A. Graham, Sacramento, Cal., among the first of the passengers to land.

Reports from the wreck scene said heavy seas caused the cargo liner to pound heavily on the sandy bottom, within 120 feet of a coral reef, and she was taking water through opened seams. Salvage tugs were unable to approach within less than a mile of the stricken ship.

The Silvercrest was en route to Manila from San Francisco when she grounded. No reason for the mishap was given officially, but it was believed severe storms threw her off her course.

MONTREAL, Jan. 9 (CP).—Cargo tonnage handled on Montreal wharves during 1938 totaled 16,586,820 tons, increase of 127,186 tons over the total for the previous year, it was announced during the week-end by Alex Ferguson, port manager.

Inward tonnage amounted to 10,196,143 tons, against 10,073,523, and outward tonnage 6,390,677 tons, against 6,296,111.

During the navigation season 11,474 vessels were entered and cleared, compared with 9,965 the year before, increase of 1,509.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

On or about January 12 next the traffic signals, First Narrows, Vancouver Harbor, now being exhibited and operated from Prospect Point, will be changed over to the new location on the First Narrows Bridge. HAD DIZZY SPELLS FOR 3 YEARS

Result of Acid Indigestion

"Before taking Kruschen," a woman writes, "I had very bad dizzy spells and hot flushes, bad spells of acid indigestion, and I was so nervous at times that the least thing would upset me. I was about three years in that condition.

"I could not tell you in words how happy and glad I am today that I gave Kruschen Salts a trial. I have now taken them for 18 months. I would not miss them one day. They are a great help to anyone who suffers as I did. I feel in better health today than I have for years. After taking Kruschen for three weeks the dizzy faints and hot flushes left me. I now feel so bright and cheerful. Kruschen Salts assist to keep you fit and fine."—(Mrs.) J.M.

Kruschen Salts is an excellent recipe for maintaining a condition of internal cleanliness. The numerous salts in Kruschen stimulate your internal organs to smooth, regular action. Your inside is thus kept clear of those impurities which, when allowed to accumulate, lower the whole tone of the system. (Advt.)

Grounded Vessel Freed When Wind Lifts Lake Level

ST. IGNACE, Mich., Jan. 9 (AP).—The 352-foot car ferry Chief Wawatam, grounded on Graham Shoals in the Straits of Mackinac since last Tuesday, was freed this forenoon by two tugs, two coast guard vessels and her own engines.

A change in the wind that raised the water level also helped in the freeing of the ferry with its cargo of twenty-two freight cars. Damage to the Wawatam was not immediately determined.

APPRAISES MEN IN PUBLIC LIFE

Professor Jennings Evaluates Prime Minister In Lecture

A dozen brilliant little sketches, ranging from the "thumbnail" to "cabinet" size, of "Men in British Public Life," were given by Professor Ivor Jennings, of the Department of Economics, University of British Columbia, for the University Extension audience present at the Junior High School last night.

The three Chamberlains, Joseph, Austen and Neville, were the first subjects, and later deft portraits were given in a few words of Sir Samuel Hoare, Anthony Eden, Sir John Simon, Clement Attlee, Dr Hugh Dalton, Herbert Morrison, and, in response to requests, of Sir Stafford Cripps, Viscountess Astor, Ellen Wilkinson and Florence Horsbrugh.

Referring to the Chamberlains, the speaker disagreed with Sir Charles Petrie concerning what the latter called "the Chamberlain tradition." There was, he thought, no such thing, there being very little in common between the three men. While frankly admitting he was prejudiced against Joseph Chamberlain, Prof. Jennings said it was not because of what he had once defined as his "restless ambition."

WITTY COMMENT

Anyone who had the ambition to govern a country like England well merited praise; and the person who was prepared to give his life to the government of Canada should be placed among the angels, said the speaker, in one of the witty comments that frequently enlivened his talk.

Joseph Chamberlain was undoubtedly the most forceful and able of the three Chamberlains, and with the exception of Lloyd George and Winston Churchill no one in the present House occupied so prominent a position. Austen Chamberlain had been destined for politics; Neville Chamberlain was not.

PRESENT PRIME MINISTER

The present Prime Minister, educated at Rugby and Birmingham University, was destined by his father to carry on the family tradition in Birmingham, and after seven years in the West Indies returned to that city, and for a time took part in municipal administration, a useful experience in his later political life. As the businessman of the family he was drawn into national administration by Lloyd George during the war as chairman of the Central Control Board, and in 1916 was made director general of National Service, a position in which "no one could have been an eminent success" as it meant providing labor for works at home, and at the same time the "cannon fodder" wanted by the War Department. As Minister of Health he won greater distinction, and the speaker credited him with being one of only three persons in the House (the others, Sydney Webb and Miss Susan Lawrence) who understood the Local Government Act of 1929. Neville Chamberlain was the best Minister of Health England had had since the office was created. None of the Chamberlains was an orator, and the present Prime Minister was described as of the "tip and run type," niggling in debate, "constantly stroking the cat's hair backwards," and exhibiting what the speaker deemed an undesirable thing in a Prime Minister, viz., a definite foreign policy.

"The task of a Prime Minister is not to have a policy. Mr. Asquith had no policy on anything. The primary purpose of a Prime Minister is to co-ordinate and conciliate. The party and the government can have a policy. But it is positively dangerous for a Prime Minister to have a policy. The Foreign Secretary should determine the foreign policy," maintained the speaker.

H. L. Smith, president of the local University Extension Association, was in the chair.

SENATE COMMITTEE TO EXAMINE HOPKINS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP).—The United States Senate commerce committee decided today to ask Harry Hopkins some questions on politics in relief before passing upon his fitness to service as secretary of commerce.

It voted to summon the former director of the works progress administration for hearings Wednesday. Hopkins had indicated a willingness to give the committee any information it desired.

B.C. FORESTS IN BAD YEAR

Total of 2,140 Fires Cost $2,229,144 and Destroyed Much Acreage

Reporting the worst forest fire season on record for a number of years, the Provincial Forest Service disclosed 2,410 outbreaks, causing a total of $2,229,144 in damage and burning over 709,317 acres in British Columbia woods for the calendar year 1938. Fire-fighting cost $608,069, of which $454,247 was paid by the Province, and the balance by other parties.

The number of fires, the extent of the damage, the loss of 1,046,341 feet of merchantable timber, the area covered, and all other indices jumped from as much as 50 to 100 per cent during the year over the ten-year average.

A long-continued dry season with consistently high winds, created out of a normal fire season a year of unusual trouble and loss. Merchantable timber was destroyed on 91,185 acres, involving a net stumpage loss of $818,189 and the destruction of more than a million board feet.

Immature timber was killed on 113,930 acres, with an estimated value of $522,045. Other damage included $414,773 to forest products, $88,811 to buildings, $145,899 to railway logging equipment and $25,683 in lesser items.

CAUSES TRACED

The majority of all fires were traced to lightning, which set off 703 outbreaks. Smokers and campers, including tourists, combined accounted for 964 fires, mostly of minor importance. More than 120 fires were believed to have been of incendiary origin. In only fifty-two cases out of the 2,410 was the exact cause of the blaze doubtful. The bulk of the damage was done in a handful of larger outbreaks, including that at Campbell River on Vancouver Island.

The report, prepared by the Forrest Service, was submitted this week to Hon. A. W. Gray, Minister o Lands.

GUNMEN KILL TORONTO MAN

ers had attempted recently to force Windsor to pay $25 a week as "protection" for his barbecue and dime-a-dance place just north of the city limits. They understood Windsor refused.

POLICE HOLD TWO

More than a score of persons were questioned yesterday and today at police headquarters, and two men were held on vagrancy charges. Police said they were convinced robbery was not the motive for the cold-blooded murder, despite the fact thirty-two Toronto bookmakers have been held up and robbed in the last month.

Witnesses to the shooting were Mrs. McDermott and her husband, Mrs. Warner and her husband, and Miss Brönell. After one of the gunmen fired a shot into Windsor's body, then kicked him and finally robbed him, the five were herded upstairs before the gunmen left.

Rewards for information leading to arrest of the gun squad totaled $2,000.

CANADA'S TRADE

Accurate figures are not yet available, but the domestic exports of this country for 1938 will reach a value of approximately $922,000,000, as compared with $1,110,000,000 in 1937. Re-exports of foreign commodities, mostly coined gold, rose during the past year from $15,000,000 to $44,000,000. The imports for 1938 are placed at $686,000,000. That leaves a favorable trade balance for the year of $280,000,000, as compared with $316,000,000 in 1937.

Canada's trade has shown declines mainly because of the depression in the United States, which had its reflection in the Dominion. This country had an adverse trade balance with the neighboring republic of $80,000,000, or perhaps slightly more. On the other hand, the favorable trade balance with the United Kingdom was approximately $224,000,000, and though less than that of 1937, showed the continued advantages enjoyed by this country in the operation of the Ottawa Agreement. One factor in the situation has been a sharp falling off in trade between Canada and the United States following the announcement of tariff reductions which did not become effective until January 1. Traders curtailed their commitments until these could be entered on more favorable terms.

The outlook this year hinges on the results of the tripartite trade treaties between Canada and the United States, on the one hand, and Great Britain and the United States on the other. It is, however, more favorable than it was a year ago, because business conditions in the United States have improved, and because of the possibility of peace in Europe. The present Government's policy is to increase this country's trade with the United States, even at the risk of loss of trade with the United Kingdom and other parts of the British Empire. That is why there has been acquiesence in the United States being given many similar preferences in the British market to those enjoyed by Canada.

HANDELIAN INTERPRETATION

The manner in which Handel should be presented to modern audiences is spoken of by The Times, of London, as one of the major musical problems of the day. That newspaper splits the question into three contrimutory questions: "Should they be given whole?", "How should they be sung?", "What sort of orchestra should be used?". The answer to the first of these questions is in the negative. To the second, The Times says: "something of the point of view from which Handel composed his oratorios must be remembered if they are to have any significance for us now." It elaborates in the following:

"His (Handel's) great achievement was that he compelled English singers to vie with the famous 'stars' of the Italian opera in vocal accomplishment—that is, the control of the voice in 'cantilena', the phrasing of 'coloratura', the tasteful execution of such ornaments as thrills, 'appoggiatura' and the like. Moreover, he triumphantly installed the tenor voice in its proper place as real 'primo uomo', the place usurped in the Italian Opera by the artificial, male soprano. Handel made John Beard, who began as a chorister of the Chapel Royal, the first great English tenor. His oratorios demanded great singing, went far to produce the necessary singers, and were composed for the enjoyment of an audience who had learned to appreciate singing at the Opera. All those things which the modern conductor thinks of as important—discipline and precision in attack, co-ordination of soli, chorus, and orchestra, pace and sleekness of style—were at best no more than secondary in his eyes. He often had to do without them; we may not be able to. No doubt we should not try to, but we should remember that they are secondary matters in Handelian interpretation. It is the putting of them first, as modern conductors are apt to do, which render concert room performances of Handel a manifest futility."

The Times then goes on to answer the third question that it has suggested itself—"What sort of orchestra should be used?" It says of this that the orchestral question can only be answered in relation to the vocal one. "Every conductor who rescores the oratorios for a post-Wagnerian orchestra declares that Handel's readiness to use every effect which came to hand is evidence that he would have done as they do if he had lived in a post-Wagnerian era. That is nonsense, because if he had lived at the end of the nineteenth century he would not have written oratorios appropriate to the taste of the eighteenth century. He might then have written symphonies like Mahler or operas like Richard Strauss, and, incidentally, he might have beaten both these worthies at their own game. However, he did neither; he wrote the music of his time, and unless it is given now as the music of his time it must remain meaningless to ours. That does not mean that we must adopt the attitude of the purist, allow only the instrument for which he wrote parts, and restore the 'basso continuo' filled in on a harpsichord. Such performances may interest a few intellectuals, but Handel wrote for the masses."

In concluding its review of this musical problem, the fringes of which have been touched upon by some correspondents in this newspaper during the past few weeks, The Times expresses the belief that Handel, unlike J. S. Bach, was careless about orchestration. He believed his audiences wanted to listen to the singers, both choral and solo, but especially the latter. The Times admits that "something must be done with the long series of arias perfunctorily scored for strings and 'continuo,' and given only the occasional relief of an oboe or flute obbligato." Its advice is that "whoever undertakes to do it must think of himself less as an orchestrator than as an adapter. He must determine at the outset what are the instrumental points that Handel really intended to make and allow him to make them. Whatever is added will then be relative to these points and relevant to the vocal music. The adapter will not fill up every blank space with fussy additions as though it rested with him to keep things going, and he will not so score the arias in which Handel evidently intended nothing more than an accompaniment as to draw attention away from the song to the admiration of his own cleverness. In short, the adapter must believe in Handel's capacity to express himself."

CANCER'S GROWING TOLL

During the discussion in the British Parliament on the Cancer Bill, five doctors, who are Members, gave some views on the disease. Sir F. Freemantle said it was quite likely that cancer is due neither to bacillus nor virus, but could be described as "pathological Bolshevism." What happens, he says, is that the cells of the body appear to be absolute Bolsheviks; "they get loose from the society of one another, and from all the restrictions that keep cells in their place, and run amok." Another doctor spoke of the need for research work to decide whether deep X-ray is superior to radium treatment. Another opinion expressed was that if the cause of cancer is an ultra-microscopic virus, then better microscopes for its discovery are needed, and the speaker told of one manufactured in Germany which cost $250,000 and magnified 30,000 times. A woman M.P., Dr. Summerskill, attempted to show that the poor suffer from cancer more than the well-to-do, but this point of view was repudiated by Sir Herbert Morris Jones, who said cancer attacks irrespective of classes and mode of living.

The Minister of Health, Mr. Walter Elliott, in justifying the legislation for more intensive research work, said the total of deaths from cancer in Great Britain during 1937 was 74,000, and that of the total of deaths from all causes during the working period of life, from 15 to 65, 17 per cent are due to the disease. Nearly half those deaths occur when people are still under 65, and about 10,000 occur under the age of 50. "It is a killer," said Dr. Elliott, and in many cases a killer of people in the prime of their powers." In 1901 the death rate of cancer was 835 per 1,000,000 persons. Now it is 1,600 per 1,000,000. In the course of a generation mortality from this disease has almost doubled. In most other diseases there has been a steady decline. The new legislation aims to do for cancer sufferers what has been done for the victims of tuberculosis.

The annual report of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1938, says: "The Corporation's technical plan envisages the construction of a high-power short-wave system which would serve to facilitate the exchange of programmes with Great Britain, France and other countries, and accordingly act as a powerful medium of national advertisement." Meantime the programmes from Great Britain grow pitifully less, and what there are of them might be described as "bits and pieces," often without beginning and without end, because they must be sacrificed for advertising revenue for the C.B.C.

It is always esteemed the greatest mischief a man can do to those whom he loves to raise men's expectations of them too high by undue and impertinent commendations.—Sprat.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Tutt, tutt; this column has a lot of things to take back today, about Hollywood. In "The Great Waltz," based somewhat freely on the times of Johann Strauss, Hollywood has produced a great picture; a picture with good music, restrained and feeling acting, an unusual degree of team-work, much beauty of setting, and a unified impact which leaves a happy song in the heart and a nice taste in the mouth. Don't miss it; it is a picture that is good now, and will be just as good twenty years from now. This column sat through two continuous performances without moving, and then was led away quietly, hearing nothing, seeing nothing, and still far away in the Vienna woods. "The Blue Danube," Tales of Vienna Woods," and many old favorites cover the whole piece like a mantle of grace. Outstanding performances by Luise Rainer, Fernand Gravet, and Miliza Korjus blend so well that you do not notice that this is high art. Their support is unobtrusive, balanced, and convincingly real. You can, and do, lose yourself in the show, forgetting it is a show. "The Great Waltz," is entertainment no one need apologize for; and old folks will love it. It could so easily have been muffed and spoiled; and, miraculously, it was not.

After years of seeing flying pictures where it would appear the prerequisite to flying is getting inebriated; of navy pictures where women spring up like mushrooms from the ward-room, the galley, and even the gun-turrets; of newspaper pictures where reporters have the manners of gangsters and the air of maniacs; of hospital scenes, with the most painful details; after all that, it is a delight to find a picture like "The Great Waltz." If, in the caste, we are indebted to Europe for much of the brilliance that will make us feel the happier that such talent did not sink in the great slough of twentieth century despair. So, for a season, this column is happy to take back all the hard things it has said about Hollywood; to say, frankly and freely, that it was charmed by "The Great Waltz"; and to hope that the picture is the forerunner of others as well conceived, polished, and turned out. One is made bold enough to say that "The Great Waltz" pleases, not because it has been called a musical picture, not because it has been absurdly called a "dance drama"; but because it has real music real acting, and real drama. That makes real entertainment. It is something to observe that real entertainment can come more compelling from that which is simple, clean and at times beautiful; than it ever does from that which is artificial, sordid and unlovely. We live in a world that is artificial, sordid and unlovely; and we do not find it entertaining.

There are many who, under the guise of "realism," reproduce the worst features of the world as it is. That is, however, only the failure of art to find that which is beautiful, and to display it in a light that all men may see. One by one, we have watched the real artists of the world retire before recurrent waves of "realism" and crudity. Canvasses are being painted by people who cannot draw. Music is being written by those who are without melody in their hearts. Stories are being compounded from the moronic abnormalities of an upset age. There is a tendency today to call this inversion art. It is not art, and it will not live. Nowhere has our day suffered more from a state of being upset than in the theatre; seized upon by propagandists to plead a special cause. The successor to the stage, with vastly more opportunities than ever before open to man, the screen has had a hectic birth; a period of boisterous adolescence; a sojourn or two in the wilderness of doubt; a long, long term in the dredgings of the gutter; and, more recently a slow and patient climb to firmer ground. "The Great Waltz" signals another advance, one of not a few that have been laid before the public recently. It would be hard to say to what extent the magic of music casts its spell over the story as a whole; but the story is there, too, and that, to this column, is the most hopeful sign of all. It is a charming picture.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish when water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of low water on the sill of the Esquimalt Drydock, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water at above times.

"That must be a fake. How could a cow get under a bedroom dresser?"

LAGOON BEACH MADE RESERVE

Esquimalt Sandspit and Adjoining Foreshore Created B.C. Park Area

By order-in-council yesterday the Provincial Government set aside the foreshore and sandspit adjoining Esquimalt Lagoon as a reserve for use of the public. The playground of Victorians for many generations, the lagoon and spit will now become part of the park reserves of the Province, under the Land Act.

Foreshore adjoining the lagoon on the east, and locally known as the Coburg Peninsula, was also added to the reserve.

The whole area comprises a tidal beach at the mouth of Esquimalt Harbor, west of the lighthouse. The sandspit has been a picnic resort ever since the days of the Royal Navy at Esquimalt.

Plans for the development of the area were not announced.

Glancing Over Sport

Do you know that four members of the Southern California grid team, winners over Duke in the classic Rose Bowl game at New Year's, are Canadian born? Few people knew that the Maple Leaf was linked in the small annual football match at Pasadena . . . When Jimmy Todd lands in California he has a lot of people to look up. George Straith has given Jimmy letters of introduction to famous movie stars, ranking golfers and various others in different walks of life . . . It's a funny thing but Bazz O'Meara, of the Montreal Star, predicted early in December that the Chicago Black Hawks would give Bill Stewart, their manager the gate before the season went along much farther. Bazz must have seen the handwriting on the wall, or something . . . I understand that the Victoria City soccer club is going to be thoroughly reorganized shortly by Manager Joe Bloom. Rumors have it that Wally Rowe, George Leggett, Ronnie Williams, Sammy Essler and Cliff Robbins will be wearing the red uniforms of the City when they trot on the field for their next performance. This quintette should give the city a strong aggregation for the remainder of the campaign . . . Bill Stern and Sam Taub are the best fight broadcasters on the air lanes ever since they started putting boxing on the radio.—J.D.

Traffic Lecture

From what we have seen, heard and narrowly escaped, a more rigid enforcement of traffic regulations by police would take a lot of pleasure out of driving for dozens of motorists . . . We still have with us the pedestrian who barges across a street without looking to right or left, and his brother who ambles out in the midst of a block from behind a parked car . . . Then we have his cousin who plods across a busy intersection like a snail, instead of getting from one side to the other as fast as possible . . . On the other side we see motorists who pull out from a curb, stop, or turn abruptly without a vestige of a hand signal . . . We should like to see a traffic light installed on every intersection of the business district . . . Motorists are continually haled into police court and fined for infractions of traffic regulations, but who has ever seen a pedestrian charged? . . . Who are the streets for? They are for pedestrians just as much as for motorists, but the pedestrian can only lay claim to an intersection where he intends to cross.—G.B.

Gardens in Bloom

With a long continuation of the garden flowering season, there has been aroused among the lovers of floriculture in the city of Victoria quite a friendly competition as to the number of outside growing plants from which bloom may be cut at this late period. The varieties that are continuing to bloom all through the season in the open gardens are numerous and the plucking of the flowers reveals well into the teens in number.—O.H.N.

Muddy Feet

The song says: "It's great to beat your feet in the Mississippi Mud, but we are too far away from Ole Man River and our mud must be made of the wrong stuff, for, to our way of thinking, it is no treat just now to slog through the damp earth which lies inches deep on Fort Street near Douglas. Some months ago a block of shops was erected on View Street; the foreman had the foresight to assign a man to the job of keeping the thoroughfare clear of fallen clods of earth, stones, etc., when the excavating was being done. Could not the builder on this Fort Street site follow the example of the View Street man and see to it that the mud is really carted away by the trucks which he is hiring, at a good price no doubt, to do just that job? At present the sidewalk and roadway are covered with a chocolate coating which pedestrians, and motor cars too, carry for miles through the town on their shoes or tires. Mud pies days are over for most of them, but mothers and wives, mayors and shop managers still object to having mud tracked over their premises.—L.A.G.

USED CHRISTMAS CARDS

Sir,—In answer to Mr. John G. D. Knight's letter in Wednesday's Colonist about Christmas cards and Christmas tags, there is a lady at Port Alice, a Mrs. A. King, who made them into scrap books for hospitals and has just finished one for the Queen Alexandra Solarium this Christmas. Anyone else wishing to dispose of their Christmas cards and tags should send them to Mrs. King, who would be very glad to receive them for so worthy a cause.—MRS. M. A. RENFREE.

THEIR MAJESTIES' VISIT

Sir,—Of course the King and Queen should glide into Victoria on the Princess Elizabeth, but if that is not feasible then a naval vessel which can disembark Their Majesties at the Causeway should be selected.

The kind of first impression which is made on your mind when you arrive at a port is something of importance if you want your visitors to glow with a pleasing memory every time your name is mentioned in the years to come.

There is the contrast between landing at Belleville Street and the Outer Wharf, the difference between the memory of a pleasant dream and a painful picture of the rocks of bankruptcy.

Let us pray the authorities do not land Their Majesties outside on the ramparts of cold formality but rather to land them in the city, in the midst of the concentrated warmth of the largest family welcome it is possible for us to muster. Let us make the turning point of their journey memorable.

GEORGE VALLANCE.

THEIR MAJESTIES' VISIT

Sir,—Through the courtesy of your column may I express my delight at the itinerary arranged for the forthcoming visit of our beloved King and Queen to our fair Dominion, and that the City of Victoria named after Queen Victoria, is included in their schedule.

The 24th of May is a Dominion holiday, and was, until recently celebrated by the City of Victoria. This year, after discussing the question with several of our best citizens and businessmen, I would like to suggest that we make the 24th the commencement of a celebration which will be one of the most outstanding in the history of our city and which should culminate in the visit of the King and Queen on May 29-31.

We are assured of a tremendous number of visitors from the States and other parts of British Columbia and, with Victoria being favored as it is, we should make the event a memorable one to our royal visitors and to all our other guests.

To me it seems that one of the finest sights, and one which would give greatest pleasure to Their Majesties, would be a display by all the children from our schools and colleges.

Feeling that the utmost should be done to make this the greatest celebration ever held in Victoria, as it is the first time a reigning monarch has been here, I would urge that we bend all efforts at once to get a magnificent celebration under way, and to that end would be glad to offer my services in the cause of Greater Victoria and the Island.

The chance will come only once.

G. A. DYSON.

DEAN INGE AND SPAIN

Sir,—The Colonist has reported Dean Inge as "correcting an impression" by "some facts." His "facts" appear distorted. Other facts, most vital, he entirely suppresses.

1. He says this Government is not legally elected. But there have been two Governments; and both elections (not only one, as the dean implies) were rife with irregularities. The Latin way! The only difference was that in the earlier election the largest party in the Popular Front abstained from voting in disgust. A minority Government got in, but by its ruthlessness in Northern Spain, it made the people close their ranks and so lost the next election.

2. The killings, particularly of Sotelo, a killer, were reprisals by a people who had suffered for ages.

3. The make-up of the Spanish minority on the rebel side is:

(a) Ex-monarchists representing cruel and sensual kings—Hapsburg and Bourbon alike.

(b) Army officers; all self-seeking and treacherous politicos; run away from all foreign foes; good at mass shooting of their countrywomen and children.

(c) The Spanish church. (Killing of priests and destruction of churches.) The dean is too charitable to this church, the worst human institution that ever was. Four hundred years ago the English stole the cathedrals from their church, the Scotch sacked and burned their churches. The Spaniards were more patient. Their church is still the Church of the Inquisition and the Auto da Fe. Its claws are pared now, but its extortion, its hostility to education are still there. So the percentage of illiteracy is very high.

4. The dean quotes a professor to the effect the Government could not keep order. How could these well-meaning novices in Government keep order, when confronted by irreconcilable plotters, aided by Fascist and Nazi penetration? Whose fault was it?

5. But the grand suppression of the dean, which makes all his facts valueless, is that the centre of his picture is left blank—the Italians! We concede the right of every nation to settle its own government. No one can dispute that Spain, if left to herself, would give victory to the present Government; but the Black Shirts veto the wish of Spain. These foreign intruders seem to be on the verge of a resounding success. They bomb the people regardless of age or sex, and machine-gun the wretched survivors. How can England, France and America stand idly by?

For two and a half years these heroes have resisted the combined attack of the privileged minority and the foreigners. If they collapse, they will go down fighting. Remember their indomitable history. It was the Spanish national uprising, the people, not the army, that broke the spell of Napoleon and showed Europe the way to freedom, though they were afterwards again treacherously robbed of that freedom by their own kings. Now again the day-spring seemed to have come. Disappointed, they front death bravely, hoping to the last.

Their war-cry is the same as that o. Scotland:

"Freeman stand, or freeman fa'
But we shall be free!"

IMMUTABLE TRUTH

Sir,—It is a commonplace that the science of today, contradicts that of yesterday, as the latter had contradicted the science of the day before. For these are the days of research when things move quickly! When library books on specific subjects soon give place to others. Those who give thought to the future course of things are well assured that much of what is dogmatically asserted in the name of science today will be repudiated or changed tomorrow. If then science cannot give a trustworthy answer concerning matters that lie within its own proper domain, how worse than credulous folly is it to look to that authority for information touching matters, such as origin of man, the nature of the physical universe, the inherent truth and revelation of God's Word to humanity, which lie outside its domain altogether.

When the theories of Darwin were in their ascendancy and unlike the present day, in the discard, there was prepared at a convention of the British Association held in Birmingham, England, a paper entitled "The Declaration of the Students of Natural and Physical Science," which was signed by over 700 of the members present, including the most celebrated men of that epoch in the several departments of natural science. A copy of the document was deposited in the Bodleian Library at Oxford, and reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned students of the Natural Sciences, desire to express our sincere regret that researches into scientific truth are perverted by some in our times into occasion for casting doubts upon the truth and authenticity of the Holy Scripture. We conceive that it is impossible for the Word of God, as written in the book of nature, and God's Word written in Holy Scripture to contradict one another however much they may appear to differ. We are not forgetful that physical science is not complete but is only in a condition of progress, and that at present our finite reason enables us only to see as through a glass darkly, and we confidently believe that a time will come when the two records will be seen to agree in every particular. We cannot but deplore that natural science should be looked upon with suspicion by many who do not make a study of it, merely on account of the unadvised manner in which some are placing it in opposition to Holy Writ. We believe that it is the duty of every scientific student to investigate nature simply for the purpose of elucidating truth, and that if he finds that some of his results appear to be in contradiction to the Writter Word, or rather to his own be erroneous, he should not presumptuously affirm that his own interpretations of it, which may be erroneous, he should not presumptuously affirm that his own conclusions must be right and the statements of Scripture wrong, rather, leave the two side by side till it shall please God to allow us to see the manner in which they may be reconciled; and instead of insisting upon the seeming differences between science and Scripture it would be as well to rest in faith upon the points in which they agree."

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of January 10, 1889)

Real Estate—Lowenberg, Harris & Co. yesterday purchased the property at the corner of Yates and Douglas Streets, from the Reynolds estate for $17,000. It is their intention to immediately improve the purchase by erecting a brick block. James Martin purchased a house on Yates Street from the same estate for $2,000.

Sullivan to Fight—The next deposit of $5,000 in the Sullivan-Kilrain boxing match is to be made with the New York Clipper on April 15, when a final stakeholder and a referee will be chosen. The fight will take place on July 8, within 100 miles of New Orleans.

CLEARS STUFFY HEAD

Helps Prevent the Development of Colds, too

NOW, it's easy to relieve head cold discomfort. Just put a few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol up each nostril and feel the tingle as Va-tro-nol's stimulating medication reduces the swollen membranes, clears away the clogging mucus, helps to keep the sinuses from being blocked by the cold—lets you breathe again.

NEXT TIME, don't wait until your head is all stuffed up. At the first warning sneeze or sniffle, use Va-tro-nol at once—it helps to prevent many colds from developing.

Va-tro-nol is specialized medication—expressly designed for the nose and upper throat where most colds start. Used in time, it stimulates Nature's own defenses to fight off many a cold, or to throw off head colds in their early stages.

Stock and Bond Prices Lower at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP).—Further profit-taking in recently strong aircrafts today hit the stock market for losses of fractions to more than 2 points.

Declines ran to 3 or so at the worst, but last-minute buying support enabled leaders to close well above the lows of the session.

Dealings dwindled after a rather fast forenoon sell-off and transfers totaled 1,099,630 shares, compared with 951,460 last Friday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .5 of a point at 51.9.

Traders were said to have shown a desire to cash in on the aviations while waiting for the President's national defence message due later in the week. Some brokerage analysts expressed the opinion the airplane group had been given a lengthy upward ride on armament hopes without a great deal of "correction."

The bond market backed down a little more from high marks of late December.

Some corporate loans bucked the trend for fractional gains but many were lower by 1 to around 2 points.

U.S. Governments closed 1-32d to 3-32d's improved.

A brisk upturn occurred in Japan 6 1-2's, Milan 6 1-2's and Rome 6 1-2's.

WHEAT FUTURES DROP FRACTIONS

WINNIPEG, Jan. 9 (CP).—Beneficial rains in the United States Winter wheat belt, easiness at Liverpool and indifferent support combined to give Winnipeg wheat futures an easier tone in dull trading today.

Quotations were 1-4 to 1-2 cent down, with May at 62 1-8, July 62 5-8 and October 62 7-8 cents. Canadian wheat export business was estimated near the 100,000-bushel mark, mostly worked from Vancouver.

Values at Liverpool closed 3-4d down to unchanged. United States markets slipped but Buenos Aires firmed.

Country marketings totaled 208,000 bushels, compared with 164,000 bushels in 1938.

Transactions in cash wheat were confined to a few adjustments between mills and terminals. Coarse grains moved slowly, with barley receiving some support from exporters and commission houses. Mills were credited with oat purchases.

TORONTO STOCKS EASIER AT CLOSE

TORONTO, Jan. 9 (CP).—Sledding became a bit heavy for Toronto stock market today, mainly because of the handicap imposed by New York weakness. Volume was off to 877,000 shares.

CHAPTER XLII

Kay was going to Albany on the early morning train. It was so satisfying to have a constructive plan to act upon that she began to be nearly happy. Her business outlook, she thought, was entirely hopeful. She was confident that the agency would not have sent for her unless there were a possibility of her being acceptable as a hostess. Where she was supposed to act in this capacity, she had no idea, but at least she could look over what the position offered in the way of congenial employment and renumeration. If she didn't care for the set-up, she need not accept the offer.

Her relief, unfortunately, was decidedly brief, for Webb accompanied her to the station in the morning, his luggage piled with hers in the station truck. It was maddening, but she dared not make a scene and get rid of him now.

There was nothing but a dirty, stuffy day coach on this early train into the city. This was the last straw. With Webb beside her on the uncomfortable red plush seat, she attempted, as the train pulled away, a nonchalant wave of farewell to Gloria and the other members of the camp crowd who had come down to see her off.

For a long time, she did not trust herself to speak to the man at her side. She was storming within herself like a hurricane in full blast.

Webb sat smiling down at her in veiled amusement.

"You can't get away with it Kay. Making this move without consulting me—your promised husband," he said, at last.

She dropped her eyes, twisted the clasp of the blue linen handbag in her lap. She drew her short blue jacket tighter about her rigid figure, making herself too busy to reply.

He offered sourly, "Are you listening to me?"

She finally got out, "I—I suppose so."

"You're not taking a position—anywhere. It's entirely preposterous! If you need a trousseau—if that's worrying you—I'll arrange a most elaborate one. You should know that."

She drew herself up quickly, her eyes filled with loathing. She smiled up at him a little crookedly.

"How long will you continue to run my affairs?"

He moistened his lips with his tongue. He gave her an angry glance. His ugly expression fairly startled her.

"We've done with all the tomfoolery! I think we'd better get married—no sense in waiting out the two months. Let people gossip if they like."

She paled, stirred uncomfortably on the seat. In sheer panic, she tried to think of a way out.

"You've forgotten—the murder hasn't been solved," she reminded him, low.

"Oh, well—you've been pretty decent about that. Everyone knew you intended to marry Blare for his fortune. They won't censure you for marrying me—for love." He laughed mirthlessly.

"You're—why, you're impossible!" she gasped. "I can't marry you—I won't!"

"Oh, yes, you will," he returned confidently. "Just as soon as this train pulls into Albany."

Jews Sweep Snow Off City Streets

VIENNA, Jan. 9 (CP).—Many Jews, who have lost their jobs as a result of the Nazi anti-Semitic campaign, have turned to snow sweeping in Vienna. They receive 4.80 marks ($1.92) a working day. Among them are many intellectuals who asked for night-hour assignments because they did not wish their former, non-Jewish colleagues to see them working on the streets.

Beware of advertisements which are mere catch-pennies! Alas! How many of you have wasted your money beguiled by wonderful stories all about far-distant lands and gratitude and late husbands? Is it not better to consult someone one is able to see and talk to, living right here in one's own home town rather than to venture to send money to some unknown person from whom there is no redress—except through law—which is costly—and therefore never resorted to. FRAUD CHARGE HEARING HELD

William J. Bellew Case Will Be Resumed in City Police Court Today

A preliminary hearing in the case of William J. Bellew on a charge that he did unlawfully and fraudulently fail to account to Horace W. Miller for the sum of $2,000 received between December 1, 1937, and March 29, 1938, will be resumed before Magistrate Hency C. Hall in the city police court this morning.

During the hearing yesterday, David McMillan, manager of the Dominion Bank, testified that a loan of $2,000 was made to Bellew on December 1, 1937, with Mr. Miller's endorsement.

He stated Bellew paid $200 on the note on January 7, 1938, and $400 on January 12. Then the note was renewed for two months at the reduced amount of $1,400. Interest was paid up to March 7. Mr. McMillan said he called on Mr. Miller, and he paid the note on June 30.

TELLS OF THREAT

Gordon A. Cameron, solicitor for Mr. Miller, told of unsuccessful efforts to collect money from Bellew for his client. He swore that Bellew told him last November that if Mr. Miller laid a charge, he would lay a counter-charge against him under the Moneylender's Act. Mr. Cameron said Bellew made many promises to pay which did not materialize.

Mr. Miller, who described himself as a broker, financial, real estate and insurance agent, testified Bellew offered him compensation of $112.50 if he would loan him $2,000 to pay a bank draft and customs duty on a shipment of antique silver.

He accordingly arranged for the loan to Bellew from his banker, and took out a chattel mortgage on the silver. Goods were shipped in the name of the Pacific Jewelry & Loan Company, and the firm made out a bill of sale to Bellew.

Mr. Miller said the silver was placed in the Pacific Jewelry vault, and Bellew gave him a note for $112.50. There was to be no interest on the chattel mortgage. Bellew later paid the note. Bellew paid off $600 on the original note, and Mr. Miller got him to renew it for the balance of $1,400. Mr. Miller was unable to check the silver, but was told some had been sent to Seattle and Chicago for sale. He was unable to secure the $1,400 from Bellew, so Mr. Miller had to pay it himself, he told the court.

IS THREATENED

He swore that Bellew threatened he would report him to the Attorney-General for charging excess interest if he took proceedings against the accused.

During a lengthy cross-examination by the accused, Mr. Miller denied that the $112.50 received from Bellew was for interest on the chattel mortgage.

Detective Percy W. Richards described arresting Bellew on a warrant on December 28.

Bellew withdrew an application to have H. W. Miller & Co. produce books for December, 1937, and January, 1938. He was not represented by counsel.

BENNETT DELIVERS FAREWELL ADDRESS

luncheon meeting ever held in Hotel Vancouver.

STAY WITH EMPIRE

Canada can not succeed alone in her attempt to build a nation, he said, against the many "visible and invisible influences" working against her. The Dominion must hold close to the rest of the British Empire.

Mr. Bennett said the world, "like business," shows definite groupings and in some cases "mergers." There are groups of states in Europe working together, an alignment of countries in North and South America, the beginnings of an alignment in Asia. To Canada's south is the United States.

Canada, with a population of barely 11,000,000, is influenced greatly by that nation on her southern border, both by the overwhelming weight of population in the United States, and by the "invisible" influences such as radio, transportation, and speech.

"Never did so few people undertake so great a task in the face of such difficulties as we Canadians," Mr. Bennett continued. "We cannot succeed alone. We must belong to one or another of the great economic groupings of nations that control trade and business."

NOT ORGANIZED

The principal struggle is to determine which it shall be. Within the confines of the British Empire are the "most incomparable resources of which man has record," but the various sections of the Empire are "wholly unorganized."

"Shall we make up our minds that we propose to develop within the various units of the Empire or shall we join with one of the other groups," he said. "Shall we develop a long-range policy of government to bring about that end, or continue with a selfish, short-range one?

"My farewell word is this. On our determination of that question rests the happiness of those who come in the future."

Mr. Bennett advised his audience "not to be deceived" by talk of recession from Confederation by any Province.

"There is nothing new in these evidences of suspicion and dissent," he said. "They are merely an evidence of democracy itself.

"There are differences in various parts of the Dominion, yes—but when it comes to talk of dismemberment of Confederation, that is talk of something unsound."

Just the same, dissension between East and West must be removed. Canada must function as a unit to succeed.

"If you men will make up your minds to foster unity, we would be a long way towards that goal in six months."

Many Dominion policies of the past must be rectified, too. Democracies "rarely see past the next election," but what is needed is a "long-visioned" policy planned in terms of generations to come.

TAXES AT PEAK

Taxes have almost reached their ultimate peak, Mr. Bennett claimed. Temporary sacrifices may have to be made by the public if Canada is to reap the ultimate benefits of a long-range plan of ordered finance in government.

The solution, he said, does not lie in repudiation of public debts as advocated by some Canadians. Such a decision would ruin banks and insurance companies and adversely affect the general public as depositors.

"The strife between democracy and autocracy today is a real one," he said. "There is evidence that conditions on this continent cannot be borne indefinitely. We can't continue to increase debt and taxes."

There has been no long-range attack on the unemployment problem, either, Mr. Bennett said. There is only one test for the correct policy to adopt in this regard:

"Will it provide more employment for Canadians in Canada."

Over all Canadian problems is the unemployment problem. All others are subsidiary until a solution is reached, he said.

"If only we can organize the various sections of the Empire, I can solve the unemployment question—and so can you."

WORLD SELFISHNESS

Mr. Bennett said that when all the world is thinking in terms of selfishness, "altruism is a little out of place."

The British Empire promised to disarm and started to do so while other nations built up their armaments. Then one day "we awoke to find out democratic existence threatened."

Some Canadians criticized the Munich agreement of last September. They think Prime Minister Chamberlain should have "withstood against Hitler's position."

But, Mr. Bennett said, the German army at that time was mobilized and within two hours' travel of the frontier.

"I have heard Canadians say Hitler was bluffing. Let me tell you dictators can't bluff. They must keep their promises to hold their positions.

"Which one of you would have tilted the balance in favor of war?"

Among head-table guests were Lieutenant-Governor Eric W. Hamber, Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer and Mayor Lyle Telford of Vancouver.

SAYS PEACE WOULD BRING JOBS FOR ALL

Mountains, but there are no industries there. Development there would create great wealth."

Mr. Gardiner emphasized that Canada, with 40 per cent of its population engaged in agriculture, must look to Britain, particularly to the densely-populated London-Manchester district with its 25,000,000 people for its market. He said enemy bombing planes, coming up the Thames River and following the London-Manchester railroad, could wipe out Canada's best market in a matter of minutes.

"None of our markets would be left unless Britain were prepared," he said, stressing Canada's dependence on continued peace.

VAST POPULATIONS

Europe, outside Russia, had an area only half as large as the United States, but a population of 400,000,000, compared with 130,000,000 in the American republic. Asia, not including Russia, had a population of 1,100,000,000.

"The density of population has a great deal to do with the difficulties in the world today," he said. "The problems of Europe for 200 years have been settled because people could leave there and create new homes on this continent. But conditions have changed and they are unable to do so now as they did."

Mr. Gardiner said that although the land in the Great Central Plain in North America between the Appalachian and Rocky Mountains was as fertile as in densely-populated continents, it could not support so great a population because climatic conditions were not so favorable. "We cannot support so dense a population as Italy or Germany, but nevertheless we in Canada are sparsely populated."

NEW RUSSIAN DECREE

MOSCOW, Jan. 9 (AP).—The Moscow radio broadcast a new decree yesterday ordering automatic dismissal of any Soviet Russian worker who arrives on the job more than twenty minutes late. The decree, which emphasized the seriousness of the Government drive against labor slackers, directed district prosecutors to see that factory managers enforce the rule strictly.

Nanaimo Installation—It was announced at the Victoria Gyro Club luncheon yesterday that a large number of members had decided to attend the installation of officers of the Nanaimo Gyro Club, which is to take place tomorrow evening. A special invitation was extended to members of the local club to attend the function.

Express Regret—Feeling reference to the passing yesterday morning of Miss Lilian C. Macdonald was made at a meeting of the Overseas League in Spencer's dining-room yesterday afternoon. Rev. T. H. Laundy, chairman, spoke of Miss Macdonald as one who had frequently attended the meetings of the league, and had taken an enthusiastic interest in it and in the affairs of the Empire.

To Correct Year Book—The Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau was informed yesterday that the 1939 edition of the Canada Year Book would be corrected with regard to the fact that Victoria was the second city to have an electric street railway system in Canada. Last year's edition stated Vancouver had a system before Victoria, but the error was discovered by the local bureau.

Pop Stolen.—Thieves with a truck who broke into the Crystal Spring Soda Water Company, Ltd., during the week-end stole a number of cases of soda water and left thirteen other cases abandoned on an adjacent lot. Detective P. W. Richards and Sergeant Arthur H. Bishop found entry had been gained by climbing a roof and smashing a window open. Signs led them to believe the thieves used a truck.

Grade "A" large eggs went down two cents in price, while grade "A" medium and pullet eggs both dropped one cent in value. 4 Economic advantages for Italy in the Near East.

Mr. Chamberlain conferred with his key ministers today. Some well-informed sources said the Cabinet and the Prime Minister were prepared to support France in resisting Italian clamor.

(In Rome, Italians considered the dispute with France the chief subject of discussion awaiting Mr. Chamberlain, despite French and British insistence that there was no question of his acting as mediator.)

FASCIST PRESS CAMPAIGN

It was indicated Mr. Chamberlain might urge Mussolini to relax the Fascist press campaign in which the colonial claims have been advanced.

Mr. Chamberlain and Lord Halifax will have slightly more than an hour to canvass that phase of the Mediterranean situation with Daladier and Bonnet tomorrow.

Mussolini's open-minded attitude toward an appeal from President Roosevelt for assistance in resettling Jewish refugees raised a far-reaching subject. Mr. Chamberlain has taken a keen interest in the plight of the Jews. While he is in Rome, George Rublee, executive director of the inter-governmental committee for refugees, will be in Berlin for discussions of the problem, and the Prime Minister has arranged to be kept informed of the progress of Rublee's visit.

It was considered likely Mr. Chamberlain would ask Il Duce to lend his assistance and influence with Chancellor Hitler.

REFUGEE QUESTION

Progress on the refugee question may emerge as the most constructive topic of the trip to Rome, which Chamberlain has been planning since Mussolini suggested it during their first meeting last September 29 in Munich.

It was considered here highly doubtful any decisions would be reached in Rome on the Spanish Civil War.

Mussolini was expected to seek again the granting of belligerent rights to the insurgents. Mr. Chamberlain has given such strong signs of rejecting such a proposal this whole phase of the discussion may be deadlocked.

Mr. Chamberlain was understood to be not averse to discussion of an Italian share in control of the Suez Canal, apart from any colonial clamor. Control of the canal—link between Italy and her East Africa empire—now rests with France and Great Britain.

Some quarters speculated if Mussolini would make a declaration for refugee assistance Mr. Chamberlain would announce a willingness to adjust the Suez Canal situation.

SETTLEMENT OF INTERIOR URGED

Rev. Robert Connell Says Immense Tracts Suitable For Farming

Surprise at the continued sparsity of population in the Interior of British Columbia was voiced by Rev. Robert Connell in an address to members of the Overseas League in Spencer's dining-room yesterday afternoon.

"There are immense tracts of land suitable for settlement, and it seems to me amazing that more people have not entered that area," he said.

Two things were necessary in the settlement of the Interior, Dr. Connell continued. Firstly, it was important that the people who went in should be in a position to establish and carry themselves for the first three or four years. Secondly, if communities were to flourish, it was essential that they should be established on a co-operative basis.

SECRET OF SUCCESS

"Co-operation, I believe, to be the secret of agricultural success. Governments should foster and encourage the co-operative idea," the speaker declared. Possibly the reason why there had been so little co-operation in the past was that the settlers had grown up in isolated communities, he suggested.

Mr. Connell, in his address, dealt in an interesting manner with the outstanding topographical and geological features of Vancouver Island and the province. Vancouver Island and the Queen Charlotte Islands, he said, were really part of a sunken range of mountains, and for that reason there was little land on the Island suitable for agricultural purposes, but its remarkable scenery made it attractive to tourists.

Mr. Connell took his hearers on imaginary journeys by sea and land round the coasts of the Island and Mainland and through the Interior, and presented a picture of the history of the province to be read from its geological features and formations.

The guest speaker was introduced by Rev. T. H. Laundy, chairman, and was warmly thanked for his address.

The Crow of Croup Worries the Mother

When the child wakes up in the night with a croupy cough; spasmodic croup, it strikes terror to the mother's heart.

The child can scarcely speak, can hardly breathe, and seems to be choking.

There is no time for delay; apply hot poultices to the throat and upper part of the chest, and give Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. We know of nothing better to give prompt relief. It is absolutely safe, does not contain any habit forming drugs, and will help to soothe the infected membranes, stop the irritation and subdue the inflammation.

Anxious to Participate in Royal Visit Preparations

Local Council of Women, at Monthly Meeting Yesterday, Dealt With Forthcoming Events—Annual Meeting Plans Advancing

The Victoria Local Council of Women, at its January meeting yesterday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A., signified its interest in the forthcoming Royal visit by deciding to send a letter requesting representation on any civic committee that may be formed in connection with the preparations for the reception of the King and Queen next May.

The secretary was also instructed to write to the National Council of Women requesting that they postpone their meeting, which was to have been held in Kingston on May 29, until after the visit of Their Majesties to the Coast.

Yesterday's business session, presided over by the president, Dr. Olga Jardine, opened with a standing expression of regret at the passing of David Leeming, a former mayor of Victoria, and later the members paid standing tribute to the memory of a former council member, Miss Ellen G. Lawson.

The council received with regret the resignation of Miss Helen Kirkwood, general secretary of the Y.W.C.A., and convener of one of the council's standing committees, who is leaving shortly for England. A letter will be sent to Miss Kirkwood expressing the council's good wishes.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Local Council will take place at the Sons of England Hall, opposite The Colonist office on Broad Street, on February 22 and 23. Affiliated societies were reminded that nominations and resolutions for this meeting should be in the hands of the secretary, Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, by Friday, January 13. Consent of nominees must be secured in order to make nominations effective. Fees of affiliated societies, the president reminded the meeting, must be paid before the annual meeting.

Announcement was made that the annual meeting of the Provincial Council would take place sometime in March. The executive's suggested nominations for provincial executive were endorsed, as follows: For president, Mrs. Fred J. Rolston, Vancouver; for vice-president, Mrs. A. C. Ross, Victoria; for corresponding secretary, Miss Edith Stevens, North Vancouver; for recording secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Tomer, Vancouver. Following its traditional policy of supporting Western women in nominations for the National body, the council headed the list of its nominees for national vice-president with the name of its own president, Dr. Olga Jardine, other three nominees being Mrs. Paul Smith, M.P.P. (Vancouver), Mrs. Grevette (Calgary) and Mrs. Allison (Winnipeg).

On Wednesday, January 25, the council will hold a bridge party at the Y.W.C.A., under the convenership of Mrs. Bertha Parsons. There will be good prizes. Play will start at 2:30 p.m. and players are to supply their own cards and score pads. Tea guests will be welcomed.

STORY OF MME. CURIE

By special request, Mme. Sanderson-Mongin retold, for the Local Council, the story of Mme. Marie Curie, co-discoverer, with her husband, of radium, twice awarded the Nobel Prize for her contributions to science and for the great benefits she had conferred on humanity by her discovery of radium; and the first woman to become a professor at the Sorbonne.

"A good woman, a beautiful spirit, a fine character, an accomplished scientist, a rare and unique being, a modest genius," said the speaker in her final summing-up of this remarkable benefactor of society, who so consistently throughout her brilliant career shunned publicity and who steadily refused to commercialize her great discovery in the hope that its benefits would be thus made more freely available to mankind.

Club Hears Address on Silverware

Mrs. H. V. Bartholomew was the speaker at the dinner meeting of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club last evening at the Y.W.C.A., taking as her subject, "Knives, Forks and Spoons." Her account of the evolution of these articles so familiar in everyday use, was particularly interesting.

Knives, she explained, were first used on tables in Italy in the fifteenth century. They were always made in pairs, one with a pointed blade for carving and one broad and flat for serving. The handles were made of crystal, gold, silver and ivory and the engraving usually suggested a religious background. Porcelain handles came into use in the eighteenth century.

In the fifteenth century "grace knives" were made, "grace before meat" and "grace after meat" being engraved on the handles. Mrs. Bartholomew suggested that the words of "O Canada" engraved on the handles used in this country might be the means of avoiding present confusion.

FORKS INTRODUCED

Forks were first used in France in the reign of Charles V, and the custom spread to England, where they were first used to eat mulberries to avoid staining the fingers.

The earliest fork in the Victoria and Albert Museum is dated 1632 and was made in the reign of Charles I. Mrs. Bartholomew said. She added that in 1936 six early English forks were sold by auction in London for $725 and that a teaspoon dated 1485 was sold for $1,450.

OLD SPOONS

Spoons are of even greater antiquity, the speaker told her audience. They were used by the Greeks and Romans and by the early Anglo-Saxons. The first spoon was made with a round bowl and six-sided handle, which was subsequently flattened and a seal applied. These were known as the old "seal spoons." There were only nine complete sets of Apostle spoons in existence at the present time.

The fact that loyal subjects of the King during the Wars of the Roses and the Civil War in the reign of Charles I gave their silver to be melted down into coins to pay for the war, accounted for so little plate being preserved. Oxford University, alone, had given 1,600 pounds weight of silver to be thus used.

Mrs. Farquharson thanked Mrs. Bartholomew on behalf of the club and also thanked the soloist, Miss Marion Mitchell, and her accompanist, Mrs. C. C. Warn. Miss Mitchell's songs were "I Shot an Arrow" (Balfe) and "In the Luxembourg Gardens" (Mannings).

It was announced by the president, Mrs. James A. Bland, that the lecture by Miss Constance Spry will be given at the Empress Hotel on Saturday, February 4. Tickets may be obtained from members, from Miss Kate McLaren or at Maynard's Jewelry Store.

ROBINS—BROOKS

The marriage of Margaret Annie, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Brooks, 447 Monterey Avenue, and Mr. Cyril L. A. Robins, only son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Robins, 976 Heywood Avenue, took place at 8:30 o'clock last evening in Oak Bay United Church, in a setting of chrysanthemums and greenery, Rev. F. R. G. Dredge officiating.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a becoming frock of white lace with a floor-length skirt graduating to a slight train, and a high-necked bolero with long sleeves. Her veil of tulle formed a train and was arranged with three strands of orange blossoms across her brow and she carried an arm bouquet of pink and white carnations and Sweetheart rosebuds. The bridesmaid, Miss Augusta Marshall, wore a frock of robin's-egg blue taffeta with short puff sleeves and a full quilted skirt, and a pink net veil held in place on her head with a posy of pink and blue flowers. She carried a sheaf of white and palest pink chrysanthemums. Mr. Walter Davis was best man, and Mr. Herbert Clapham and Mr. Bert Roberts were ushers.

As the register was being signed, Mr. R. M. McIntosh sang "Because," accompanied by the organist, Mr. L. Partington, who also played the wedding marches.

About sixty guests were entertained later by the bride's parents at their home, and supper was served at a table centred with a three-tier cake standing between small vases of carnations. Mrs. Brooks was dressed in green velvet with a small matching hat, and wore a corsage bouquet of pink carnations, and receiving with her was Mrs. Robins gowned in Marina blue velvet and accessories to tone, with a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses. The bride and groom received their friends standing beneath a pink and white arch and large white bell.

Mr. and Mrs. Robins left for the Mainland at midnight, and after a honeymoon in Vancouver, Seattle and Portland, will return to Victoria to live. For traveling the bride wore a frock and accessories in vintage red, and a swagger sealskin coat.

INFANT'S KNITTED SET—DESIGN NO. 709

Dear Readers: "Baby Dumpling" won't need a rabbit-skin if she has this cute little ensemble in which to brave the elements. She will be cosy from top to toe in hood, coat, panties, mittens and bootees of fine wool. The modern baby just doesn't feel well turned out unless she is dressed in hand-knits these days, so if you would please the junior member of the family, get out the knitting needles. The lacy design is quite simple to follow, and the trimming is dainty ribbon bows in blue for boys and pink for girls.

The pattern includes instructions for knitting the set in the three-month size, with instructions for adapting to larger sizes, material requirements and full directions for finishing.

Flighty Forty's Club

A jolly evening was spent recently at the home of Mrs. Soulsby, Esquimalt Road, when several members of the Flighty Forty's Club were among her guests. An amusing skit, depicting the trials and tribulations of a rich old aunt, whose poor relations indulged in their various views and opinions, was much enjoyed and the cause of much merriment. Games, a ping-pong tournament, and dancing, occupied part of the evening. Mrs. Gladys Thomas, in her usual inimitable manner, entertained the guests with her clever singing and whistling. Festive colors and decorations adorned the supper table.

For Week-End Skiing Trips

The eskimo hood of fluffy, long-haired fur makes this ski jacket dramatically new. Here, the vogue for hoods serves a practical end. You can make your lightweight wool jacket with regular high-rise ski trousers of the same cloth, or contrast it, as is done in this photograph. Tailored of fine wool snowcloth, the jacket uses zippers to very practical purposes.—(Copyright, 1938, by Fashion League).

DEFENDS AIR RAID POLICY

was tackled in a muddled and vacillating fashion, adding that a detailed scheme was being worked out to replace the emergency plans put into operation during the crisis.

The shortage of recruits required for first-line civilian defence was very small, Sir John said. Recruiting had not declined significantly, and he proposed to continue it until a substantial reserve was created.

Simultaneously with his statement, the Ministry of Health issued a list dividing England and Wales into three groups for evacuation purposes in case of emergency.

The first consists of crowded areas like the London boroughs and leading industrial, shipping and naval centres, from which evacuation would take place.

The second comprises "neutral" areas which will not be avacuated but which will not be used to receive those evacuated.

The third consists of areas in more remote and less populated parts of the country which will be used for the reception and billetting of those evacuated.

REFUTES CHARGE OF ATROCITIES

difficulties encountered by the British forces.

DIFFICULT CAMPAIGN

Little hope for swift restoration of order in the Holy Land was held out, because, the statement said, "in addition to there being no standing armed rebel force against which the troops can act, there is no central organization whose destruction would cause the rebellion to collapse."

"Women are not molested in any way," the statement said, "and are only searched on occasions when the services of a police woman searcher are available. Woman searchers are occasionally employed as a deterrent against rebels disguising themselves as women, as has happened on several occasions."

Of charge British troops were wantonly destroying Arab property, the War Office said:

"Much use is being made in the propaganda on the demolitions of houses by troops, and the impression is being given that the wholesale demolition of the houses of innocent Arabs is being carried out. This is not the case.

WHY HOUSES WRECKED

"In the great majority of instances, individually selected houses only are demolished, for the following reasons:

"1. When they are the property of a known active rebel leader who is absent from his village with the gangs.

"2. Houses from which fire or other resistance has been directed.

"3. Houses in which arms, ammunition or equipment has been concealed, or which are proved to have been used for rebel purposes as court houses, billets, etc.

"Occasionally," the statement continued, "demolitions are carried out as a collective punishment" in cases where "the responsibility for outrages, particularly sabotage and sniping, can be definitely laid at the door of a certain village, but information as to the actual prepetrators is lacking."

PROPOSES CITY EXTEND LIMITS

Mayor of Nanaimo Advocates New Boundaries—Isolation Hospital Urged

NANAIMO, Jan. 9—At the first meeting of Nanaimo's 1939 council, Mayor V. B. Harrison advocated extending the city boundaries this year. He is also recommending retaining the services of a dredge for work on the waterfront of the townsite, and advised that if the location of the fire hall is to be changed, the new site should be the corner of Prideaux and Albert Streets.

Medical Health Officer Dr. W. E. Drysdale, in his annual report, stated that Nanaimo's milk supply was now the purest in Canada. He reported fifty-five infectious cases in the city during the year, mostly chicken pox, measules and mumps. There was one case of spinal meningitis. He strongly recommended the building of an isolation hospital for the city.

In response to an appeal from a committee representing the Canadian Legion here, the council agreed to endorse resolutions being submitted to the Federal Government to the effect that the latter assume the responsibility of some 10,000 to 12,000 allegedly fit unemployed war veterans. T. A. Barnard, spokesman for the committee, explained that most of these men were fifty years of age, but owing to war hardships were physically ten years older. The open labor market, he maintained, was inadequate to take care of them, and the Legion throughout Canada believes they are an obligation of the Federal Government.

Here are the FACTS about Lifebuoy Soap

MAKE no mistake about it, Lifebuoy is unique! A daily Lifebuoy bath stops 'B.O.' as no ordinary soap can. What Today Means

"CAPRICORN"

If January 10 is your birthday the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.; from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., and from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m.; from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., and from 10:30 p.m. until midnight.

It will pay you to be observant this day. Sharp eyesight is likely to catch many errors, and be a labor-saver. Avoid judging anything by hasty glances, for only through close examination will some flaws be detected. It may be good judgment for you, in an unobtrusive way, to protect your personality as much as possible in any social or business gatherings you may attend. Persons content to play "second fiddle" when there is an interchange of ideas are likely to do themselves a great injustice. Wit will be appreciated, but buffoonery is apt to be condemned. Dignity, in all probability, will have an important bearing upon the ultimate results achieved by the average person. There might prevail among many classes of people today an inclination to condone or whitewash mistakes, especially if the guilty persons prove there was no selfish ulterior motive back of them. Married and engaged couples, as well as those ready to receive or give an engagement ring, must not hastily refuse to accept any logical excuse offered to them. If they would save themselves a lot of useless worrying.

If a woman and January 10 is your birthday, you must have faith in yourself and friends, if you would have your share of happiness. An unduly suspicious nature can make a person very miserable. Loyalty attracts loyalty, and you more than likely are faithful to those you feel are trustworthy. You need have no fear of suffering from any parental influence, for you are likely to be immune to it. Your strength of character and will power ought to give you a tremendous amount of physical and moral courage. As a purchasing agent, demonstrator, interior decorator, artist, musician, professional entertainer, model, writer or broker you may make an outstanding record and plenty of money. Domestic felicity ought to be the result of your marriage.

The child born on January 10 seems to be destined to have many educational and financial advantages. Many of these may result from this youngster's own efforts. Home influences will have an important bearing upon its mental reactions and ideals.

If a man and January 10 is your natal day, hope will sustain you and your being able to revive happenings in a philosophical manner is apt to give you a clarity of vision that will prove most helpful. Success is likely to be attained by your as a soldier, explorer, author, jurist, educator, clergyman, artist, politician or engineer.

Sweeney Schriner Only Two Points Behind the Leader

Former Scoring Champion Closing In on Johnny Gottselig in Race for Honors This Season—Anderson and Barry Tied for Third Place—Horner Is Still Ahead in Penalties

MONTREAL, Jan. 9 (CP).—Out for his third National Hockey League scoring title, Dave (Sweeney) Schriner, of New York Americans, is moving up steadily on Johnny Gottselig in the battle for individual honors. The Manhattan winger is just two points below the leading Chicagoan in tonight's official N.H.L. statistics.

Four points scored in one game during the last week brought Schriner up to a total of twenty-two seven goals and fifteen assists. With his team in a slump, Gottselig was held pointless during the week, to remain with a total of eleven goals and thirteen assists.

The Black Hawk forward, though remained at the head of the list in actual goals, where he and New York Rangers' Alex Shibicky are tied at eleven. Schriner's fifteen assists heads the field in that department.

No change was registered during the week in the penalty leadership except that Toronto's "Red" Horner pulled farther out in front with forty-eight minutes.

Chicago Squad Blanks Toronto Leafs and Patrick's Team Defeats Americans, 5-2—Detroit And Canadiens Play to One-All Deadlock

By JACK CALDER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Now that the firts huzzahs for Master Frankie Brimsek have rolled over the hill, it's time to look around and see which National Hockey League goaltenders are rivalling Boston Bruins' prodigy in the rough racket of warding off rubber bullets.

They turned the calcium glare on Brimsek when he came in to replace Tiny Thompson after the Bruin veteran was sold to Detroit. And there was nothing wrong in calling twenty-three-year-old Frankie a sensation when he scored two sequences of three shutouts.

But all the while another twenty-three-year-old boy, who came up to the big league two years ago and had to ride a rockier road at the start, was doing a bit of a job for Toronto Maple Leafs. Not many folks will give you an argument if you say the Boston defence affords a more consistent protection than Toronto's.

So it was something of a surprise to some of the 13,881 souls at Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens, Saturday, when the Leafs spilled the league-leading Bruins, 2-0, with Turk Broda's goaltending playing a principal part. It was Broda's sixth shutout of the season, tying him in that respect with Brimsek for league leadership.

LEAFS DEFEATED

Between them, the Boston poker-face and the burly Toronto backstop have amassed half the league's total of twenty-three shutouts—but the picture doesn't end with them. Along came Mike Karakas on Sunday night, poking his thin face right in with his fifth shutout as the Black Hawks defeated the Leafs and Broda, 1-0, at Chicago.

Just a notch back, with four whitewashings, is Davie Kerr, of the Rangers, who wasn't in shutout form Saturday night, but was good enough to help the blueshirts to a 5-2 win over their intra-New York foes, the Americans, at Madison Square Garden.

Broda's work Saturday night, combined with the neat attacking of George Parsons, lifted the Leafs into fourth position. They dropped right back to fifth and the Hawks regained the fourth rung last night. Rangers advanced to within three points of Boston, while Detroit kept its two-point margin over the last-place Canadiens by tying them, 1-1, at Montreal.

Parsons delighted the biggest crowd of the Toronto season by spanking home Murph Chamberlain's rebound late in the second period. He got the other Leaf goal with six minutes to play, speeding a clean shot past Brimsek after shaking loose two Boston defencemen. The sting left the Bruin attack three minutes from the finish when big Eddie Shore was given a misconduct penalty for shooting the puck at Referee Norm Lamport.

Bill Thoms, a Leaf until he was traded for Doc Romnes recently, upset the Toronto team at Chicago by scoring with the aid of Bob Gracie and Mush March in the first period. Karakas and Broda were stern masters of the situtaion after that, in spite of aggressive tactics that brought a flood of seventeen penalties.

RANGERS TRIUMPH

Americans, with Eddie Wiseman and Art Chapman from their four-man hospital list back in the line-up, held Rangers even most of the way. Rangers scored through Dutch Miller in the first period, but Americans came back with Art Jackson's goal. After a scoreless second chapter, Alex Shibicky and George Allen gave Rangers a 3-1 lead, and Joe Jerwa's goal was Americans' last bid, as Clint Smith and Bryan Hextall tallied again for the Patrick clan.

Charlie Conacher might have broken up the Montreal game in overtime, but the Detroit right wingman's ice shot skimmed inches wide with Wilf Cude out of goal. Syd Howe gave the Red Wings a second-period lead, but Armand Mondou tied it up in five minutes.

BUD SHIPPER

TALL tip-off ace of the New York Shamrocks, touring professional basketballers, who will be seen in action Friday and Saturday evenings against the Victoria Dominoes. The games will be played at the High School gymnasium, and promise to set a season's attendance record. Rated as the best cage squad to ever perform in British Columbia the Shamrocks will be making their second appearance on the local court. Their line-up riddled with injuries and sickness the Dominoes are unable to field a team for their senior "A" encounter tomorrow with the Senators, and the game has been postponed. In order to complete the three-game programme, Victoria and District Basketball League officials last night announced that Spencers and Beavers, senior "C" men quintettes, will play the second game tomorrow evening, the fixture being moved ahead from Thursday. In tomorrow's curtain-raiser, Gainers will meet Adverts at 7 o'clock, to be followed by Spencers and Beavers. Palm Dairies and Northwestern Creamery will play in the nightcap.

Chin Seisui, Japanese professional and runner-up last year, tied with R. Asami, Japanese pro, for second place, with 294.

There were six Japanese among the ten high men, among whom also was John Montague, of the United States, once known as a "mystery" man of golf. Montague tied with others for sixth place, with a score of 304.

The triumph represented a comeback for the youngster, who made a grand slam of the world's four major amateur titles last year. He had beaten Vines in the first matches in New York and Boston, losing in Philadelpria and Chicago.

FINISHES WITH 274 SCORE TO TAKE TOP MONEY IN SOUTH

Houston Professional Breaks Par in Final Round To Win $5,000 Tournament—Misses Record By a Single Stroke—McSpaden Is Second, Seven Strokes Behind

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9 (AP).—Conquering wind, par and pressure, twenty-eight-year-old Jimmy Demaret, of Houston, Tex., captured the fourteenth annual $5,000 Los Angeles open today with a last round sub par 69 and a seventy-two-hole score of 274.

Smiling Jimmy, former Texas Professional Golfers' Association champion, found the stiff wind that greeted the field to his liking and breezed in an easy winner by seven strokes, but missed by one blow of tying the tournament seventy-two-hole record set a year ago by Jimmy Thomson.

Lone Canadian in the final round, Stan Leonard, of Vancouver, B.C., found the hazards too tough and finished far back, with 298. He posted a 78 today to add to previous rounds of 75-71-74.

Demaret, who led the field from the opening round with scores of 66, 68, 71 and 69, came to the eighteenth green needing a par four to tie Thomson's record.

SINKS APPROACH

Harold McSpaden, shooting just ahead of Demaret, called his approach shot and gave the gallery of 5,000 a thrill by holing the iron poke from a distance of about 180 yards.

Demaret's approach swept over the green and landed in the fringe of the crowd. Nettled, his chip to the cup was short and he needed two more to get down. His victory was worth $1,650.

McSpaden's spectacular shot gave him 71, even par for the Wilson course, and $990 second prize money for his total score of 281.

Jimmy Thomson, dropping back with a 74, Sam Snead with 71, Mark Fry with 73, E. J. Harrison with 74 and other pre-tournament top-notchers failed to overhaul the flying Demaret.

Thomson wound up with 283, Harrison a stroke back, and Snead and Fry, the latter from Oakland, Cal., were tied at 285. The 286 bracket comprised Cooper, Byron Nelson, Ben Hogan and Willie Goggin, while Horton Smith and two newcomers, Ralph Hutchinson, of Bethlehem, Pa., and John Malutic, of Girard, O., finished together with 288.

Johnny Dawson won the amateur trophy with a total score of 290, with Phil Finlay, of Pasadena, runner-up, with 293.

Later the tournament committee announced that the $5,000 purse, underwritten by The Los Angeles Times, had been raised after a cheque on the favorable gate receipts, and the winner would receive $1,650, and McSpaden, $990, instead of the original $1,500 and $900 for first and second places.

Jane Dixon Says:

A YOUNG COUPLE, WHO WILL BE UNABLE TO ESTABLISH THEIR OWN HOME IF THEY MARRY NOW, SHOULD REALIZE THERE ARE NO FIXED RULES FOR FINDING HAPPINESS

There are no fixed rules for finding one's happiness.

A willingness to adjust oneself to conditions, to necessity, a cheerful acceptance of what opportunity has to offer and a steadfast determination to make the best of it, can and does bring happiness from an apparently hopeless situation.

Dear Miss Dixon: I am engaged to a boy six months younger than I am. He is twenty and I am twenty-one.

We have been going together two years and are very deeply in love. We plan to marry some time soon. We finished High School together, and he has had one year in college.

Though he has tried, he has been unable to secure a position even in public works—at least, not one that would pay a moderate salary. He has saved only a little, so we'd have nothing much to start on.

He seems to be contented to stay at home—is very much the "home boy". One of three boys—the oldest married—he is the only one at home now. His mother and all his family seem to like me and I like them, though I've not been around them very much.

Both of us have worried and studied a lot over our problem, and we've about decided that for a while we could live in the house with his parents until we get a decent start. He has too much pride to begin with so little. I am willing to do this even though it may not be best. I realize there are liable to be little differences that might create ill-feeling; but I believe that by using self-determination and control on our part, we could manage to get along in peace.

Please tell me whether you think it would be better to wait a while longer to marry so that we might live by ourselves, or to go ahead with what we have.—"Worried."

Comment: You are both so young—the boy is not yet of age—it does seem you can afford to wait until he has, at least, work that will give him some sort of income.

However, if you decide against waiting, there is no reason why you should not be able to carry on in the home of his parents—providing the parents are willing and the other sons offer no objection to such an arrangement. Providing also, that you have enough self-control to remember you are a guest in his home, and that a guest defers so far as is just and reasonable, to the wishes of the heads of the house. When those "little differences" come up, it will be your duty to do at least three-quarters of the yielding.

QUALITY
This charming residence combines an attractive plan with sterling construction. The large living-room has open fire, finished with Bachelder tiles, and wide windows commanding uninterrupted view of sea and mountains. A full-sized dining-room opens into a sun room which enjoys the same view. There is a beautiful bedroom and tiled bathroom downstairs and also a small office and kitchen. Upstairs are two large and one small bedroom and another complete bathroom. A full concrete basement and Oil-O-Matic hot water heating plant complete the description, but cannot give any idea of the charm and comfort which pervade the house. The owner, leaving for England, is sacrificing for $6750

ADVOCATES USE OF GOLDSTREAM UNIT

an aggressive policy in connection with the sale of our city lands.

"I recommend that the necessary steps be taken to develop the Goldstream plant as a municipal undertaking, the electric energy obtained therefrom to be used, at the outset, for street lighting purposes.

CITY LIGHT SYSTEM

"It would be a simple matter to utilize the Goldstream plant for the supply of power and light to all civic buildings, including schools, in addition to the street lighting, and I hope it will not be long before this is an accomplished fact and the city on its way towards the establishment of its own light and power system.

"I would further recommend that the necessary estimates of expenditure for development of the Goldstream plant be prepared and, when the amount required is ascertained, that application be made to the Government for a loan under the Municipal Improvements Assistance Act to take care of this expenditure.

"I assume it will be necessary for the city to present its request for lower light and power rates direct to the Public Utilities Commission as soon as this commission is appointed.

"I think the City Council would be justified in proceeding with its work of preparation of a transportation franchise which would come into operation when the City Council deemed advisable.

ROUGH STREETS

"I am compelled to draw attention to the condition of our streets alongside the street car tracks. The present condition of this section of our streets is not only a disgrace but a menace to the safety of our citizens. I recommend that the city solicitor and city engineer be instructed to take the necessary action to obtain immediate improvement of the present condition.

"We must use every opportunity to impress on Provincial Government authorities the necessity for substantial financial assistance, as it is imperative something be done to lighten the unjust load now carried by the home-owner.

"Victoria will be honored with a visit, next May, from Their Majesties, King George and Queen Elizabeth. Needless to say, this will be an outstanding event in the history of our city, and I feel sure all our citizens will recognize this, and that every effort will be made by the City Council, as well as private firms and individuals, to mark the occasion in a fitting manner," Mayor McGavin stated.

INSULIN AN ADVANCE IN TREATMENT OF MENTAL PATIENTS

One of the stories we used to hear when in our 'teens was of the patient in the mental hospital who watched workmen digging in some hard clay. He questioned one of the workmen as to the amount of wages he received, how many hours he worked, and as to the quantity and quality of the food he ate. After learning this and comparing it with his own life in the institution, he laughed and said, "And I am supposed to be crazy."

It is these "satisfied" mental patients that form the largest single group of patients in our mental hospitals. They are called schizophrenics or dementia praecox patients, who live in a "persistent dream state" in which they believe or have made themselves believe that they are important individuals—kings, emperors, wealthy businessmen. Naturally, this is a more satisfying life than being out in the world where their kingly position or huge wealth means nothing and they have to work and obey like other men.

What is the result?

Because of their contentment with the protected life in the mental institution they live a long time. And because they do live a long time it is estimated that not less than 25 to 50 per cent of all the inmates of mental hospitals belong to this class—dementia praecox.

Fortunately it is in this very large percentage of mental patients that the new treatment of insulin shock has given brilliant results. Just why this treatment gives results is as yet unknown. Some research workers think that the deep sleep or unconsciousness enables the patient to forget or get completely away from the causes which disturbed his mental balance.

Before the insulin treatment was known, a large number of these dementia praecox patients recovered under the usual methods of treatment, so the question arises as to whether the insulin treatment is really a better method.

Dr. Norman L. Easton, director of research, Ontario hospitals, New Toronto, Ont., compared two groups who received the same food, same amount of rest, same medical attention except that one group received insulin and the other did not. The results showed that while 65 per cent of those taking insulin were able to leave hospital, just 40 per cent of those not taking the insulin recovered.

Dr. Easton states that he is firmly convinced that more can be done for schizophrenics with insulin than without it.

At the homes of certain acquaintances, it does no good to bring the conversation around to the drought situation. They never take the hint.

LAST SUNDAY'S QUESTION

Question 52.—Both sides vulnerable; the bidding proceeds:

East	South	West	North

You are South, and hold
♠ A J 10 8 ♥ — ♦ A Q J 10 ♣ K Q 10 9 4

What call do you make?

Answer—You should bid two hearts. This, of course, is the strongest overcall available and is absolutely forcing to game. Your powerful hand demands this action. A take-out double would be very unwise in that your void in hearts suggests that such a double might be left in by partner. (30 points demerit for 2 spades; 20 points demerit for 3 clubs; 13 points demerit for a double, 40 points demerit for any other call.)

(Last Friday's question was the final question of the examination.)

The bidding

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
1 NT	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened his fourth best diamond, the five spot. Success or failure of the contract depended squarely on declarer's play to the first trick. As every one knows, a hold-up play often is valuable, especially at no trump, the idea being to exhaust one defender of the led suit so that he will be unable to put his partner back on lead after stoppers in other suits have been knocked out. Like every other good thing, however, the holdup play can be overdone and, in this case, if South had held up dummy's diamond ace he certainly would have been defeated. North's queen would have won the trick and a diamond return would have cleared West's suit. Declarer could not have run nine tricks without leading a heart, and the moment he did so West would jump up and rattle off diamond tricks.

Declarer did not make the mistake of using the hold-up play. He reasoned as follows: West could not have the K Q J of diamonds because, with that combination, he would have led the king, not a low card. East, then, was marked with at least one diamond honor. If the diamond suit were split 4-3, it did not matter whether declarer played dummy's ace or ten, because the defenders could take only three diamond tricks and the heart ace. If, however, East had the aforementioned diamond honor and only one other diamond (which would place West with an original holding of five diamonds) it would be vital to play dummy's diamond ace. The heart ace then could be knocked out and declarer would not have to fear the diamond suit. If East had the heart ace he would have only one diamond, the honor, left in his hand. If West had the heart ace he could lead another diamond to East's honor, but would be unable to regain the lead. If West, on winning with the ace, chose to lay down a high diamond honor, he would drop his partner's honor and establish declarer's nine spot as another stopper.

On this sound reasoning, declarer went right up with dummy's ace and had no difficulty thereafter in fulfilling his contract.

FIVE DIE AT RALLY

BOGOTA, Colombia, Jan. 9 (AP).—Five persons were killed and more than twenty injured in nearby Bagheta yesterday when a Conservative party rally ended in a fight with Liberal party adherents.

BEEKEEPERS TO MEET

Vancouver Island Beekeepers' Association will hold a meeting tonight, at 8 o'clock, in Room 8, Memorial Hall. The speaker will be Chester Wilson, whose topic is "Diseases of Bees and Their Cure."

SAYS CANADA MUST AWAKEN

Capt. Philpott Thinks Spirit Of Fathers of Confederation Should Be Instilled

The need of Canada settling its constitutional troubles without delay and thus preparing the way for early settling of the vacant spaces of the Dominion was urged by Captain Elmore Philpott, speaking before the Gyro Club in the Empress Hotel yesterday. The speaker laments the lethargy shown in Canada in the direction of settling its differences which, he says, remain largely as they existed when Lord Dufferin made his report on the subject over 100 years ago.

Captain Philpott holds the idea idea that in the absence of clearing the constitutional questions as to the relative powers existing by the Provinces and the Dominion, and between the English and French sections, there need not be expected the inrush of population of which the country stands in so urgent need.

DANGER OF ORIENT

The speaker forecast the development of great military strength by the Oriental peoples. Japan's advances in this direction were most likely to be followed by similar results among the Chinese. The giving of the 400,000,000 people of China modern military equipment and officers from the trained Japanese might result in the directing of the attention of the Orientals in the direction of the American continent. The Pacific would not form an impassable barrier, he ventured. He knew of no instances of under-populated countries keeping out over-populated countries from invasion.

The Great War had altered affairs. Less and less was the outside world taking Canadian wheat. What was sold abroad was sold at a much lower price than formerly. Half the people in Canada depended upon the outside world for a livelihood. Less and less of the world was buying Canadian wheat. There had been no stability in world markets since the war. He advised the people of Canada to get together as was shown by the Fathers of Confederation.

Captain Philpott was introduced by Arthur Minnis and the thanks of the club were conveyed by the president, R. L. Challoner.

BEATS THE BULLDOG

GREENVILLE, S.C., Jan. 9 (AP).—A bantam hen, pursued by a bulldog, dashed under Lebron Scism's truck. The bulldog stopped, bewildered, when the truck rolled away—there was no hen in sight. Scism arrived at his destination a mile farther on. The hen alighted from a radius rod and nonchalantly began scratching for worms.

Peroxide, we read, contains a certain amount of alcohol.

That's probably the reason it makes women lightheaded.

TWO OFFICIALS WILL GO EAST

Youth Training Conference Called at Ottawa by Hon. Norman M. Rogers

E. C. Manning, chief forester, and F. T. Fairey, director of technical education, will represent British Columbia at the Youth Training Conference called at Ottawa for January 17 by Hon. Norman M. Rogers, Federal Minister of Labor, it was stated yesterday. R. F. Thompson, supervisor of youth training, will preside.

While in the East, the chief forester will go on to Toronto to be present at the annual meeting of the Canadian Society of Forester Engineers, commencing on January 23, and later for a meeting of the Woodlands Section of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, starting on January 25.

The British Columbia officials will leave here at the middle of the week for the Ottawa gathering. Mr. Manning will attend in connection with his knowledge of forestry and mining training camps conducted by the Province, and Mr. Fairey in connection with occupational and physical training courses carried out by the Department of Education.

HINTS LICENCES FOR BOOKMAKERS

Mayor Telford, Vancouver, Claims If They Have to Stay Make Them Pay

VANCOUVER, Jan. 9 (CP).—Mayor Lyle Telford, in a speech last night, hinted that Vancouver's bookmakers may be licensed.

"As long as we have legal gambling on horse racing in the tracks at Vancouver, I think it's silly to say it is illegal to back a horse running at another track outside the city," the Mayor declared.

"If you say we must wipe out bookmaking we'll do it," he declared, "but we will have to change the law. I have no use for gambling myself, but if the bookmaker is to stay, let us licence him and play the game."

Island Farmers Given Addresses

GANGES, Jan. 9.—Under the auspices of the Islands Farmers' Institute, two lectures were delivered last Thursday evening in the Mahon Hall, Ganges. Dr. A. V. Knight, of the Department of Agriculture, spoke in a most interesting manner on stock generally and dealt with animals' diseases most prevalent in this district.

S. S. Phillips, also of the department, spoke on soil fertility. He discussed new crops and tried to interest his audience in the crop union, which enables members of the organization to try out new crops, including oats, wheat, barley and peat land grasses. Mr. Phillips stressed the fact that Saltspring soil was deficient in lime, judging from several samples he had taken of the soil from various parts of the island.

"GOING PLACES" AT THE DOMINION

Dick Powell and Anita Louise Head Cast of Hilarious Farce Opening Today

"Going Places," the Warner Bros. picture which will open today at the Dominion Theatre with Dick Powell and Anita Louise heading the cast, is a hilarious farce whose action is interspersed with some highly original and tuneful song numbers.

In this production, Powell is given another fine chance to demonstrate the talents as a comedian which he revealed to such good effect in "Cowboy From Brooklyn," and the supporting cast is largely made up of actors whose fame as funny men has long been well established, notably Allen Jenkins, Walter Catlett, Harold Huber and Thurston Hall.

PLAZA THEATRE The high, wide and handsome adventures of a socialite who causes considerable eyebrow-lifting in Washington's society circles when she associates with a roving cowboy from the Western plains, is both humorously and dramatically unfolded in "The Cowboy and the Lady," co-starring Gary Cooper and Merle Oberon, at the Plaza Theatre.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Jack White and Sid Silvers appear in early sequences of Walter Wanger's "52nd Street," screen cavalcade of the night clubs now showing at the Columbia Theatre. The comedians portray members of a song and dance team who eventually become cabaret kings.

ATLAS THEATRE The tragedy of a diplomat and statesman whose conscience is too strong for the demands arising in the affairs of nations is the essence of the role portrayed by Henry Stephenson in Darryl F. Zanuck's spectacular drama, "Suez," at the Atlas Theatre.

OAK BAY THEATRE Deep in the heart of California's magnificent forests, Claire Trevor and Wayne Morris find love in "Valley of the Giants," Technicolor version of Peter B. Kyne's famous novel, which is now showing at the Oak Bay Theatre.

CAPITOL THEATRE From the great score of Johann Strauss music, choice of the most popular of 'it all was one of the difficult musical assignments during the filming of "The Great Waltz," drama of the life of the composer, currently playing at the Capitol Theatre with a brilliant cast headed by Louise Rainer, Fernand Gravet and Miliza Korjus.

LARGE BUILDING TO BE VACATED

Veterans of France Association Will Move Into New Quarters This Week

Rich in historical associations the building on the corner of Douglas and Courtney Streets that has been occupied for the past twenty years by the Victoria branch of the Veterans of France Association, will fall vacant this week when the veterans move to new quarters at the lower end of Fort Street.

With the high ceilings and panelled walls of an earlier day, the building was erected in 1885, to the design of the late Denis Harris, for the Union Club, which moved into the building in May of that year. Prior to that, the club, which came into being in 1879, had occupied premises on the corner of Yates and Government Streets.

In 1913 the Union Club moved into the newly-completed building which it now occupies, and for a time the old building remained vacant. Then it became the headquarters of the Y.W.C.A., until December 1, 1918, when the Veterans of France Association took it over.

NEW QUARTERS

During the past few days, the building on Fort Street occupied until three years ago by the Victoria unit of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, has been undergoing extensive alterations and renovation, preparatory to becoming the new headquarters of the Veterans of France, and is expected to be opened later this week. The living quarters provided by the association up to the present will be discontinued.

The ground floor of the Fort Street building has been arranged as a lounge, with comfortable and attractive furnishings and fittings. Upstairs, there are billiards, reading and card rooms, and an office for the secretary.

The B.C. Land & Investment Agency, Limited, is acting as agents for the owners of the old Douglas Street building, which is to be offered for sale or rent.
